PA NEWC OBSERVES

Do not burn leaves on paved streets. Permits for fires must also be obtained.

It is noticed that the repainting of poles denoting the various bus stops has reached the East Side.

The warm weather of the past few days has attracted quite a number of out door enthusiasts to the benches on the public square.

With the lifting of war-time traveling restrictions a number of buses marked "Chartered" have been passing through the city.

In a number of homes about the city visited by Pa Newc, housewives seem to be complaining about the over-abundance of small flies or "gnats" which are prevalent around this season of the year.

Almost a haze was prevalent over sections of the city Saturday afternoon, result of so many leaves burning efforts in backyards.

Many north hill residents thought that a flier was in trouble about noon, Sunday, but the situation was apparently caused by the pilot turning the gas on and off alternately many time during the circling flight over the city.

Apparently one state used the same license tags throughout the war years. Pa Newc noted a Wisconsin tag on an auto going through the city Sunday, that was orginally issued in 1942.

Crows were having a convention in one North Beaver township corn field, on Sunday, Pa Newc is told. Forty or fifty of the birds were in action on the corn field.

In the odd sights department, Pa Newc noted a car passing through the city with it's lone license plate attached up-side down.

Where are those empty store rooms that once lined East Washington street? In a casual inventory Pa Newc notes that only one or two remain between the Public Square and Croton avenue.

Pa Newc is wondering what will happen to the old Aiken school building on Pearson street when rationing is ended?

More and more familiar discharge buttons are appearing on the streets of New Castle.

* * *

Some children are raking up leaves into a big pile into cartways then bury themselves in the leaves. It is dangerous because they are apt to be run over by an auto or truck.

Start Drive On Tuesday Night To Get $125,000

Two Hundred Fifty Workers To Open Community Chest-War Relief Drive

FOURTEEN LOCAL AGENCIES BENEFIT

Two hundred and fifty workers are ready to begin the campaign to raise $125,000 dollars in Lawrence county in the next two weeks, with their drive opeing at the Community Chest and War Relief Fund dinner Tuesday evening at The Castleton.

Besides the war relief agencies, whose work it essential to rehabilitation after the world's most devastating war, 14 local agencies also benefit from the fund raised during this drive, points out Campaign Chairman William Langan.

Agencies Benefitted

These agencies include welfare groups, character-building organizations, and health agencies. That the character building agencies—such as the Central Y. W. C. A., the Girl Scouts, and the Boy Scouts, have done their work well is proved by the fact that New Castle has far less difficulty with its youngsters than many other communities.

The health agencies are the Jameson Memorial and New Castle hospitals which have had to function under crowded conditions and with fewer doctors during the war. Welfare agencies, as the Salvation Army, City Rescue Mission, National Catholic Welfare society, and the Bundles for New Castle organization, continue their work, with a lighter burden for the past two years but fully prepared to handle a heavier one should it become necessary.

Will Dissolve Family-Owned Jap Business

By JOHN R. HENRY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Oct. 22—The fate of Japan's family-owned financial and business enterprises was finally decided today with the announcement that the central control organization known at Zaibatsu will liquidate its enormous holdings.

Finance Minister Viscount Keozo Shibuzawa disclosed also that the Japanese government is planning to "take appropriate steps consistent with the policy" expounded by Gen. Douglas MacArthur for the abolishment of powerful trusts.

Precipitates Difficulties

Dissolution of Japan's big business, Shibuzawa predicted, will precipitate a "number of difficulties", such as the problem of making stocks available to the public.

The finance minister indicated that Gen. MacArthur's headquarters will be consulted by both Zaibatsu leaders and imperial government officials in the designation of big business concerns specifically marked for dissolution.

Liquidation appeared in prospect for such trusts and monopolies as Mitsubishi, Mitsui and Nakajima.

An indication of this move came last week when the president of Nakajima Aircraft told International News Service that he was planning to place his firm's stock on public sale.

Hostilities In Java Are Ended

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 22—(INS)—Java was reported quiet today as hostilities in the north coast port of Semarang ended when British troops threatened forceful action against Indonesian Nationalists.

The British Gurkha troops went ashore on Friday, finding widespread evidences of the rioting that had raged there in recent weeks. Many buildings were damaged, and numerous corpses still littered the streets.

A conference among allied officers, Japanese and Indonesians decided that all Japs would be withdrawn from the city and that all Indonesians would be disarmed. Only those members of the regular police force who, under strict allied control, will help the Gurkhas patrol the city will be permitted arms.

GUNBOAT FIRED ON

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22—(INS) — Charles Miner, Mutual Broadcasting System correspondent in Shanghai, reported today that the United States gunboat Seaze was "fired on" while steaming along the Yangtze river between Shanghai and Nanking. Details of the incident were lacking.

Democratic Party Split In Congress Is Being Widened

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—(INS)—Administration supporters today viewed President Truman's defeat on the U. S. Employment Service as widening the split within the Democratic party in congress.

Members of the big city delegations from Pennsylvania, New York and Michigan especially were embittered because 38 southern Democrats joined the Republicans in the house Friday in voting to transfer the USES to the states in 30 days. The senate is expected to concur.

Vandenberg To Seek Change In Tax Measure

Wants $25,000 Excess Profits Tax Exemption Retroactive For Small Business In 1945

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—(INS)—Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., said today he would offer an amendment to the five billion 629 million dollar tax reduction bill making the $25,000 excess profits tax exemption retroactive for small business in 1945.

Vandenberg's proposal, unsuccessful in the Senate Finance committee, nevertheless was strongly backed. Senate leaders indicated it would bring a hot fight when the revised House bill reaches the floor Wednesday or Thursday.

Sen. Millikin (R) Colo., who favored the idea of immediate help for small corporations in committee, said he expected the Vandenberg amendment to "win out" on the floor.

Would Free 31,000 Corporations

Sen. George (D) Ga., committee chairman, estimated that the plan would free about 31,000 corporations from payment of excess profits taxes next March on 1945 earnings. The Senate bill proposes outright repeal of all excess profits levies starting January 1, 1946.

The $25,000 credit, boosted from $10,000, was written into law last summer as part of the five billion

Many Miners Back At Work

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22—(INS)—A majority of Pennsylvania's 64,000 idle soft coal miners trekked back to work today to end the 27-day-old strike that caused tremendous steel cutbacks and the loss of thousands of dollars in wages.

But 3300 miners at four pits of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, where the spread of 256 shutdowns started, failed to report.

Seven miners showed up for work at the corporatoin's Vesta mine at Denbo. It was reported that miners at the other three pits were demanding the rehiring of a man who was discharged last month.

Henry Armetta Taken By Death

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22—(INS)—The film industry today mourned the passing of Henry Armetta, widely-known character actor.

He collapsed on the stage during the opening act of a musical revue, "Opening Night", at the Russ auditorium in San Diego last night and died shortly after at Mercy hospital. Physicians said death was caused by a heart attack.

Armetta, 57, had been on the screen since 1913 and appeared in scores of pictures. Although not a star, he was known to millions for his excitable, gesticulating, perplexed character roles.

Unconfirmed Rumors Stalin Is Near Death

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Unconfirmed rumors of the possible impending death of Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin aroused keenest speculation today in Washington diplomatic circles.

If true, they could be viewed as a possible explanation of the impasse of recent weeks in international peace-making matters, but there was no confirmation from any official source.

The fact that the reports came from the rumor-spawning Balkans caused some reluctance toward full acceptance of their truth. But on many Russian matters, the Balkan capitals, mostly within the Soviet sphere of influence, have been quicker to report than Moscow itself.

Questioned about the rumors, the Soviet embassy in Washington would neither confirm nor deny them.

Ill at Conference

It was recalled in Washington that Stalin held up the "Big Three" meeting at Potsdam for several days due to illness. This indisposition was ascribed to a severe cold.

Since then there have been many rumors of his ill health. At one point it was said that the State

Await Statement By Government On Wage-Price Policy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—(INS)—Announcement of the administration's position in the reconversion wage-price controversy was awaited today practically on the eve of scheduled strike votes in the automobile industry.

Some observers believe that President Truman may reemphasize the necessity of holding the anti-inflation line, re-state the provisions of his stabilization order of last August 18; and call upon labor and management to reach agreement around the collective bargaining table on the most critical problem besetting the reconversion effort.

Affort Testing Ground

The nation's car-manufacturing plants afford a testing ground for working out a solution to the general deadlock between management and labor—the latter's demand for a 30 per cent wage boost vs. industry's insistence on compensatory price increases.

Strike votes are set for Wednesday among General Motors employes in support of their wage demands, already rejected by the company. Chrysler workers will ballot the following day. A strike vote will be taken in Ford plants November 7.

The house military affairs commitee was scheduled to meet in closed session today to complete action on legislation repealing the strike vote provisions of the Smith-Connally act which have resulted in

Probe Fraternity House Fire Deaths

Three Are Dead And Six Others Injured In Fire At New Brunswick

ONE OF DEAD IS YOUNG WOMAN

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 22—(INS)—A fraternity house fire in which two Rutgers students and a 19-year-old girl overnight guest died and six others, including a second young woman, were injured was under exhaustive investigation today in New Brunswick.

Rutgers President Robert C. Clothier said the survivors would be questioned closely after Reed Silvers, dean of men, placed Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity on indefinite social probation for violation of a rule prohibiting unchaperoned entertaining of girls in campus fraternity houses.

Killed by suffocation in the two-hour fire, which early yesterday all but destroyed the Sigma Alpha Mu farternity house were Raymond Berger, 19, of Jersey City, a sophomore in the school of engineering; Benjamin Gordon, 20, of Trenton, N. J., and Miss Joyce Patricia Kaltzman, 19, of Teaneck, N. J.

Miss Kaltzman was formerly a student in the New Jersey College for Women, associated with Rutgers.

Starts From Sparks

Fire officials were convinced the fire was started by sparks from the fireplace. The fire broke out at 3:30 a. m. after, according to a survivor, the fraternity brothers

Wacs Will Dock In San Francisco

Transport Bringing Home Contingent Of 687 Wacs From South Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22—(INS)—The army transport Evangeline was due to steam through the Golden Gate today with 687 WAC veterans aboard.

The beribboned army women, including some who were among the first contingent of WACs to go to the southwest Pacific, have seen duty in Australia, New Guinea, the Netherlands East Indies and in the Philippines.

One group reached Leyte just 33 days after the American invasion of the Philippine island and arrived at Manila in time to watch the 43rd division push the Japs back into the hills.

The homecoming women soldiers performed many technical wartime tasks, including the movement of supplies and troops to combat areas. They also operated switchboards, censored mail, drove army vehicles and handled a large part of the army's endless "paper work".

Venezuela Coup Appears Success

Provisional President Bettancourt Appears To Be In Full Control

EXPECT FIGHTING WILL SOON CEASE

CARACAS, Oct. 22—(INS)—Isolated rifle volleys greeted the dawn in Caracas today, but insurgent leaders in the government of Provisional President Romulo Bettancourt claimed they had full control of Venzuela, and that all fighting would soon cease.

The success of their coup seemed assured when military garrisons in the Andean states threw their support behind Bettancourt's seven-man Junta.

Trials Promised

The provisional president promised this morning that forces loyal to the deposed president, Gen. Isaias Medina, would be brought to trial on charging of misusing government funds. Only two members of Medina's cabinet remain at large.

With Medina reported a prisoner of the new government at the Caracas Military Academy, Bettancourt

Army-Navy Merger Plan Is Opposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22—(INS)—Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal told congress today that the proposed Army-Navy merger plan is "unsound."

He recommended instead that war, Navy and State department authorities be linked under a national security council.

Forrestal specifically proposed that before any unification of the armed forces is attempted, the question be thoroughly studied by a board similar to the Morrow board of 20 years ago. The board, he said, should include representatives of congress, War and Navy departments, labor, education and science.

The secretary declared that he was "not yet prepared to agree" with a recommendation for creation of an air department co-equal with War and Navy. Forrestal said, however, he joined Gen. H. H. Arnold in opposing a return of army air forces to the pre-war status of the Army Air Corps.

Polish President Rejects Supervision Of Polish Elections

WARSAW, Oct. 19—(Delayed via Berlin)—(INS)—President Boleslaw Bierut of Poland today flatly rejected proposals for control of Polish elections by an international commission.

The present government, he declared in an interview with International News Service, is "mature enough to take care of its own business."

Victory Loan Campaign Will Open October 29

Six Hundred County Workers Preparing For Final Bond Drive Here

AIM TO EXCEED QUOTA AGAIN

Lawrence County Victory Loan workers, over 600 of them, go into action Monday morning, October 29, on the last campaign to sell bonds in connection with World War Two. The plan of action has been arranged, the district heads are ready with their workers and the goal is quota or better for the eighth straight time.

Judge W. Walter Braham is the general chairman of the Victory Loan campaign with Joel S. McKee and Clarence M. England as co-chairman. Mr. McKee's duties as co-chairman include the banking and finance division. Mr. England's duties as co-chairman are those of an executive director and it is under his personal supervision that the campaign will be carried on. Headquarters for the campaign will be in the offices of the Greater New Castle Association in The Castleton hotel.

Division Heads

The New Castle district will be headed by John J. Maher, the Ellwood City district by Charles H. Blank, New Wilmington, T. L. Ashcomb, Wampum, W. H. McCullough, Bessemer, Carl Montgomery, and Volant, Phil M. Cox. The agricultural division will be headed by W. H. McCullough and Numa F. Vidal, Jr. Payroll saving deductions will be headed by Carlton Ferris.

The Eighth War Loan or Victory Loan is not for the purpose of making war. It is for the purpose of repairing the wounds of war. There are over 650,000 men and women who were wounded in the war. These must be cared for. There are several million service men and women awaiting transportation back home. This must be paid for. New hospitals must be erected, the wounded will have to be aided

Believe Meteor Fell In State

Scientists To Make Investigation In Bucks County Of Possible Meteor

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22—(INS)—Scientists today planned to visit Trevose, in Bucks County, to inspect a piece of what may have been the "fireball" meteor which exploded with a brilliant flash early Sunday morning.

The meteor was visible in southeastern Pennsylvania and throughout southern New Jersey. Witness say they saw it streak through the air and suddenly explode. Scientists at the University of Pennsylvania estimated it was probably about 25 to 30 miles high when the explosion took place.

Explosion Cause

"The explosion was no doubt caused by the pressure of millions of molecules of air per second against the front of the meteor," explained Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of the Fels planetarium of the Franklin Institute.

"The rear of such an object has no extreme pressure against it and the variance causes the whole meteor to break apart."

Scientists pointed out, however, that generally the entire mass is dissipated into gas before it comes close to the ground. The piece of metal found at Trevose near a restaurant may be an exception to the rule and the scientists planned to see it before committing themselves.

Election Should Improve Franco-American Relations

PARIS, Oct. 22—(INS)—The French national elections, first in nine years, are bound to have manifold ramifications, but today eight expected results in particular attracted the attention of Paris observers. These highlights are:

1. The referendum vote was a personal triumph for Gen. Charles DeGaulle, who now stands in prime position for election to the presidency by the new assembly.

2. Franco-American relations should improve because of the unmistakeable support of DeGaulle's westward, rather than Soviet-ward, tendencies.

3. The stability of France is assured throughout the approaching period of economic and social strain.

4. Communists gained 20 more assembly seats than expected while the socialists garnered 20 less.

5. The M. R. P. emerged as the new dynamic party, having picked up many rightist votes through its platform of moderate leftism. M. R. P. now hold equal footing with the communists and socialists.

6. When the assembly meets on November 6 the socialists will hold the balance of power by either swinging to the communists on the left or M. R. P. on the right, with the latter swing most probable.

7. The radical socialist party which dominated France before the war, as well as its leader, ex-Premier Edouard Daladier, who signed the Munich pact, was ignominiously defeated.

8. The DeGaulle government can be expected to form a coalition cabinet, representing all major parties, with five or six communist members instead of two as at present.

High-Point Pigeon

Possessing a war record equal to that of the famous Cher-amie of World War I, Blackie Halligan, a pigeon courier is shown with his handler, Pfc. John C. The winged warrior has 105 points to his credit. (International)

State Projects Given Approval

Governor Martin Approves Construction Projects To Cost $11,033,709

STATE INSTITUTIONS TO BE BENEFITTED

HARRISBURG, Oct. 22—(INS)—The commonwealth's institutional construction program moved another step forward today with Gov. Edward Martin's approval of projects costing $11,033,709.

The chief executive explained that $7,111,109 allocated to the Welfare Department was made from appropriations authorized by the general assembly in 1943 and 1945 totaling $25,000,000.

Governor Martin reported he had approved the grant of $4,991,109 to the Welfare Department from the 1943 appropriation amounting to $9,000,000 and $2,120,000 from the $16,000,000 fund authorized this year by the legislature.

The money, he explained, will be used "for repair, renewal and construction" work at state hospitals.

A total of $2,309,000 in grants to the Department of Public Instruction for construction work at state teachers' colleges was also authorized by the governor.

He also approved the allocation of $973,600 to the Health Depart-

Glass Workers Are On Strike

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22—(INS)—Three Western Pennsylvania glass plants were idle today as nearly 5200 flat glass workers went on strike after negotiations for a new wage scale bogged down.

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company officials said that their plants at Creighton and Ford City were down and only skeleton crews remained on duty at all glass tanks until they cooled.

R. V. Ogg, spokesman for the Pittsburgh Plate said the negotiations broke down Tuesday when a "wildcat" strike hit Ottawa, Ill. A union spokesman said the company refused to continue sessions because of the strike.

French Election Proves Victory For Gen. DeGaulle

Majority Of Members Named To French Constituent Assembly Are His Followers

COMMUNISTS RECORD GAINS

(BULLETIN)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—(INS)—Gen. Charles DeGaulle was assured a substantial majority in the new French constituent assembly today although the Communists showed surprising strength in winning the greatest number of seats for any one party.

With returns complete with the exception of five seats out of a total of 522 in metropolitan France, the Communists won 148 seats, the Socialists 143 and the new Catholic MRP party, 140. Much of the remaining vote was scattered among minor parties.

By LEON PEARSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Oct. 22.—Gen. DeGaulle seemed assured of a majority of his followers in the new French constituent assembly today, though the Communists in a surprising show of strength led all parties in number of seats gained.

With the returns of the first national election in France in nine years almost all tabulated, the Communists were in control of at least 146 seats. The new Catholic MRP party and Socialists—both pro-DeGaulle—followed closely, with 139 and 131 seats respectively. Radical party members annexed but 19 seats.

Communists Lose

Despite their sudden gains in the assembly itself, the Communists were badly defeated on the two-question referendum assuring France a new constitution and limiting the powers of the assembly.

There are a total of 586 seats to be filled.

Despite the show of strength by the Communists, Gen. Charles DeGaulle had public endorsement. Both the Socialists and MRP Catholics are backing him with little less than a two-to-one majority over the Communists.

In addition, the success of his

Report 22 Die In Plane Crash

Five Army Officers And 17 Enlisted Men Perish In Alaskan Tragedy

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 22—(INS)—Twenty-two persons were reported killed instantly last night in the explosion and crash of an army C-47 plane near Elmendorf airfield at Anchorage.

Five army officers and 17 enlisted men aboard the large transport, which was enroute from Cold Bay on the Alaskan peninsula, to Anchorage. Buffeted by strong winds as it came in to land, the plane struck tree tops southeast of Elmendorf field and exploded, scattering wreckage for yards around.

The names of crew members and passengers have been withheld pending notification of next of kin. The C-47 was attached to troop carrier squadron 54.

One eyewitness stated that there was a terrific explosion with pillars of flames rising hundreds of feet

You have to have ground that is rich enough, and seed that you know is right, but you've got to have work in a garden my friend, plenty of work and fight. You have to be after the weeds every day and spray for the insects that come, and you have to be able to manage a fork and make the old hoe and rake hum. And if you will do this, and your ground is just right and the seed's right, your garden will thrive, but it takes lots of work, good ground and good seed, and the weather is seventy-five.

Assert Stalin In Good Health

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(INS)—The press attache of the Soviet embassy in London today said he had been authorized by Moscow to announce that Premier Generalissimo Joseph Stalin is in excellent health.

In view of repeated rumors that spread throughout Europe over the weekend that Stalin is dead or dying, the spokesman said:

"If Stalin dies the Soviet government would be the first to announce the news without delay.

"If Stalin were ill, his doctors would issue a daily bulletin to the press.

"The truth is that Stalin has been under a great strain for the last two years. His doctors advised him to take a prolonged rest in the country and he is now vacationing in southern Russia in the company of his daughter Svetlana.

retired to third floor rooms and the two girls went to bed in a second-floor room.

Most of the survivors were injured when they jumped from upper-story windows after finding themselves trapped by the flames.

An Army man, Pfc. Raymond Schiff, 19, of Jamesburg, N. Y., told investigators the two girls had come to the fraternity house as guests of himself and Pvt. Robert Jaffer, 18, of East Brunswick, N. J., after attending a 20th wedding anniversary dinner for Jaffer's parents in their East Brunswick home. Schiff said he and Jaffer had tried unsuccessfully to arrange other overnight accommodations for the two girls.

Pvt. Schiff said he sounded the alarm to the others and jumped out a window when he found the stairways cut off by flames.

Most of the 20 regular occupants of the fraternity house had left for the week-end. The building was declared an almost total loss. Valued at $25,000, and a Rutgers landmark for 39 years, it had been under lease by Sigma Alpha Mu since 1943 from Phi Gamma Delta.

reaffirmed today that his regime would respect and protect foreign economic interests within the country.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 22.—(INS).—Argentine's new governmental decree abolishing a previous mandate which had outlanwed political parties today strengthened hopes that national elections might soon be scheduled.

Some observers predicted that the current "mixed" government would shortly call a council of political leaders to discuss possible election dates. February 17 was named as a likely choice.

Despite the move allowing political parties to resume operations, there was considerable puzzlement by new government appointments which seemed to alternately strengthen and weaken the role of Col. Juan Peron, the country's strong man.

a deluge of some 600 petitions to the National Labor Relations Board in the past two months.

"Cooling Off Period"

At the same time, Rep. Ramspeck (D) Ga., acting chairman of the house labor committee, put forward a plan to ban strikes during a "cooling off" period which would be invoked to enable government fact-finding boards to investigate disputes. While such a board was making its study, publishing its recommendations and thereby marshaling public opinion, strikes would be forbidden. The board's recommendation would not be binding on the parties.

The government's present wage policy, as enunciated by President Truman just after V-J day, permits voluntary wage increases which do not affect prices. Hundreds of these have been made. Those which would require higher prices must have government approval.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Pvt. John Edwards who was killed in action, in France, one year ago today.

The moon and stars are shining
Upon a lonely grave.
Where sleeps a son and brother
We loved and could not save.
We often sit and think of you
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best
May God grant you Eternal Rest."

Deaths of the Day

John (Mash) Mascio

John (Mash) Mascio, aged 60 years, of 510 East Lutton street, died Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at his residence following an illness.

He was born June 8, 1885, in Rivisondala, Italy, son of Michael and Christina Mascio. He came to this country 52 years ago, a pioneer family, and resided in this district. For 25 years he worked at the Carnegie-Ilinois company; for three years at the B. & O. railroad, and between 15 and 20 years at the Universal Sanitary company. Mr. Mascio was a founder and member of Sons of Italy and one of the oldest members of the Savoia society, and the first secretary of the King Humbert society. He was a member of St Vitus church.

Surviving are his wife, Antoinette, and the following children: Michael, James, Anthony, Mrs. Christine Scardecchio, S2-c John Mascio, gunner's mate; S1-c Robert, now discharged, Lucille and Ann. He also leaves three grandchildren.

The body, removed from the DeCarbo funeral home, was taken to the residence today at noon, where friends may call.

Solemn high mass of requiem will be offered Thursday morning at 9:15 o'clock in St. Vitus church.

Interment will be in St. Vitus cemetery.

Thomas William Donaldson

Thomas William Donaldson, aged 70 years, of 420 Hillcrest avenue, died in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning as the result of two weeks' illness.

Mr. Donaldson, son of the late I. Calvin and Amy Fisher Donaldson, was born March 28, 1875, in Neshannock township, and resided in Lawrence county throughout his lifetime. He was an old tin mill worker, and for many years was the factory foreman for the Standard Wire company. He has been retired for the past several years. He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church, and of the Dr. Grant E. Fisher Bible class.

Mr. Donaldson is survived by his widow, Margaret E. Smith Donaldson; two sons, Leroy K. Donaldson, and Harold A. Donaldson; and one grandson, Walter A. Donaldson, all of this city. He was predeceased by one son, William Floyd Donaldson, who died in 1928. Surviving brothers and sisters are: Fred C., Frank F., and Lillian Donaldson, of Neshannock township; and Pearl Hutchison of Sharon. A number of nephews and nieces survive.

Funeral services will be from the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, Tuesday at 3 p. m., with Dr. Robert M. Patterson in charge.

Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. William C. London

Mrs. Marie Isabell London, aged 67 years, died at her residence, 711 Monroe street, Sunday at three p. m. following a short illness.

The body was taken to the Offutt funeral home and the obituary and funeral arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

FRENCH ELECTION PROVES VICTORY FOR GEN. DeGAULLE

campaign to obtain "yes" votes on the two questions of the referendum was overwhelming.

Show Surprises

The figures still incomplete but clearly showing the trend, contained two surprises. One was the sudden surge by the Communists, and the other was the fact that the new MRP leftist group of foreign minister Georges Bidault was leaving the Socialists far behind. The last group had been expected to lead the race.

It had been clear as early as midnight that the election, first in France in nine years, was a public endorsement of DeGaulle. By the time all large city votes were tabulated, a new constitution and strengthening of DeGaulle's prestige were certainties.

Large Vote Cast

An official announcement said that 85 percent of the qualified electors exercised their franchise, with French women leading the parade. It was the first time in French Republican history that women have been permitted to vote and they turned out in particularly great numbers in the country districts.

The referendum submitted to the voters was divided into two questions:

1—Shall the assembly be empowered to draft a new constitution; and

2—If the answer to the first question is "yes," shall the powers of the assembly be limited during the seven-month period in which it will work on the constitution.

Department was studying what line of action was to be taken in event of his death.

The fact is that Stalin has seldom been mentioned in the Moscow news dispatches of late. Likewise Russia's indecision of a number of important pending matters have been such as to cause concern. The general tendency has been to attribute the situation to political maneuvering on Moscow's part.

Invitation Not Acepted

At present Russia has not yet accepted the United States invitation to attend the Far Eastern Advisory Commission meeting originally called for October 23. Since the Kremlin subscribed to the creation of such a body last August, before most other powers, the delay might indicate some official inability to act.

These and other delays might be due to the naturally slow processes by which the Soviet leadership acts. They may, as is commonly supposed, imply that Moscow has a foreign policy which will refuse to compromise.

But it has been argued, a handicapping illness of Stalin might also prove the solution of the enigma.

Figuring in the speculation on Stalin's health was Gromyko's brief visit to Washington last week, for which no reason was ever given, and the postponed visit of Marshal Gregory Zhukov, who was invited to the American capital by President Truman.

dollar reconversion tax adjustment bill but not to become effective until 1946. The early end of the war prompted a new drive to give small corporations part of the help now. Under the Senate bill they would receive it anyhow through repeal of all excess profit taxes.

Would Limit Bonus

The "bonus" would be limited to small corporations, however, by provision that in no case shall the combined excess profits credit and other exemptions be "less" than $25,000.

Such committee members as Sen. Connally (D) Texas, who opposed 1946 repeal of all excess profits taxes, were lining up to fight the Vandenberg idea. They favor the House plan for a reduction to 60 per cent.

Excise tax reductions starting next July, voted by the House but rejected by the Senate Finance committee, provided the other major point of controversy for the coming floor action.

George conceded that the committee would probably "face a fight" on the issue of retaining wartime excise levies on furs, jewelry and other items now that the war is over.

The only way that an amendment to the Constitution of the United States can legally be repealed is by adoption of another amendment.

Orders Sweeping Changes In Japan's Educational System

Gen. MacArthur Issues Directive Aimed At Revolution In Japan's Educational System

TOKYO Oct. 22.—(INS)—Sweeping changes in the Japanese education system were ordered today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a directive aimed at substituting a philosophy of world peace for a militaristic and extremely nationalistic ideologies in school curricula.

Col. Ken R. Dyke, chief of MacArthur's information and education section, said the directive was issued "to fully inform the new Japanese cabinet of the objectives and policies of the occupatiin with regard to education."

Other occupation developments included:

1. Finance Minister Viscount Keozo Shibuzawa announced that the enormous holdings of Zaibatsu, central control organization of Japan's family-owned financial and business empires, will be liquidated.

2. Socialist leaders turned down a Communist party proposal for a united front in the forthcoming January elections because of the Communist plan to overthrow Emperor Hirohito.

3. Trials of high-ranking Japanese accused of war crimes, including Gen. Hideki Tojo, probably will start in Tokyo "within a month," according to Gen. MacArthur's legal section chief.

into the sky. Bodies strewn about the wreckage were charred beyond recognition, with some remaining seated upright in the wreckage.

The plane left Cold Bay at 6:07 o'clock last night and was expected to arrive at Anchorage around 9:45 p. m. Routine radio communications were established with the Elmendorf control tower shortly before the crash and the pilot was instructed to land.

Strong winds reported around 30 to 40 miles per hour were believed to have caused the crash which occurred at 10 p. m. within sight of the destination field.

If you begin to notice people running around town with large red feathers in their hats, don't worry about the possibility of a new fad. It's just that when the Community Chest people had to reorder red feathers in order to have enough to distribute to contributors to this year's drive, the manufacturers sent back large red feathers instead of the customary small ones. It seems that the company just didn't have any more little feathers.

MARY LOU JOHNSON WEDS PVT. J. DONLEY

At 2:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist church, an open church wedding united in marriage, Miss Mary Lou Johnson, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Johnson, of 614 Allen street, and Pvt. Jack E. Donley, Army Air Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Edward Donley of R. D. 2.

Rev. Oliver Hurst officiated at the lovely ceremony of the fall season, and he used the double ring service. Ferns and flowers were used in decorating the church.

Miss Mary Virginia Roberts sang "Because," and "Lord's Prayer," preceding the ceremony, and Mrs. W. H. Luikart, accompanied on the organ. Lohengrin's Wedding March and "I Love You Truly," were played during the ceremony.

Given in Marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white mousseline de-soie gown with cascading ruffles, with short sleeves and elbow length gloves. Her fingertip veil was of Queen Anne style, and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses and baby mums with white satin streamers. She carried a white lace handkerchief, a gift from her grandmother.

Miss Mary Matricardi, as maid of honore, wore an ice blue taffeta gown with matching blue net Juliet cap, sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a Colonial boquet of pink roses and blue mums.

Misses Sally L. Merriman, of Baltimore, Md., Delores J. Donley, sister of the bridegroom and Dorothy L. Homon, as bridesmaids, wore pink gowns and matching pink caps, similar to that of the maid of honor. They carried Colonial mixed bouquets.

Pfc. William F. Cox, Army Air Corps, served as best man. Ushering were Pvt. Edward W. Russel, Army Air Corps, Robert W. Cooper and Louis C. Krueger.

Imediately following the ceremony, friends and relatives greeted the couple. Later in the afternoon a wedding dinner was served to approximately 50 guests at the home of the bridegroom's parents. A traditional four tiered wedding cake centered the table.

The couple departed in the evening on a short wedding trip to points west. Mrs. Donley is a local beautician, and Pvt. Donley will report to Langley Field, Va., upon conclusion of his furlough.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dalbey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greurrer, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Cooper and daughter Elizabeth, of New Bedford, and Mrs. Olive Lutton of Aliquippa.

FORMER LOCAL MAN WED IN MEADVILLE

A number of local residents attended the wedding reception in Meadville on Wednesday of Miss Donna Marie Baliser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Baliser, of Liberty street, Meadville, and Arthur A. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Johnston, Morgan street.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. Agatha's Catholic church by Rev. Fr. A. J. Weschler at 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Those from here who attended the reception held in the home of the bride's parents from 8 to 10 o'clock include Mr. and Mrs. Everett Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carr, Mrs. Earl Gosnell, Mr. and Mrs. Myers Young, Miss Mary Margaret Taylor, Mrs. Samuel Phenicie, and James Young.

The groom, who was a resident of New Castle until several years ago, recently was discharged from the service of the U. S. Marine Corps with four campaign stars.

BUNDLES' ALL DAY MEETING WEDNESDAY

Bundles From New Castle will have an all-day meeting on Wednesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. at the Bundles' headquarters room, East street.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a special meeting.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS' PROGRAM

On Thursday the League of Women Voters of New Castle will open its year with an afternoon program preceded by a dessert at 1 o'clock in the main floor club room of the Y. W. C. A.

Speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. F. L. Bradfute, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters. She will have as her subject the four proposed amendments to the state constitution up for vote at the coming election.

Mrs. Lyle Hughes is chairman of arrangements for the meeting.

Legislative department of the Woman's club has been invited to attend.

Engagement Told

Mrs. Eden O. Womer, of Croll avenue, announces the engagement of her daughter, Hazel Womer, and Leo Delfoss, son of Mrs. Flossie Delfoss, of Smith Mills, Clearfield county.

The engagement will terminate in a December wedding.

Mr. Delfoss was recently discharged from the army after five years' service. He returned October 6 from Germany.

Good Neighbor Club

Good Neighbor club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Lyle Clinch, Neshannock avenue, on Wednesday evening.

Two Ideas Of Justice

As the international war crimes tribunal prepares to embark on its momentous task of trying the leading Nazi war criminals, a broadcast from Moscow underlines some of the difficulties that it faces. On this broadcast a Russian radio mouthpiece bitterly assailed the conduct of both the court and the defense in the British trials of Josef Kramer and forty-four German concentration camp guards at Luneberg.

This Muscovite accused the defense attorneys and the court of trying to "justify the butchery" practiced by the defendants at Belsen and Oswiecim and of encouraging "fascists everywhere" by the trials.

The real trouble here, it is obvious, that the Russians and the English-speaking peoples have an entirely different conception of what constitutes impartial justice. In the minds of Americans no trial could be considered fair unless the defendants had every opportunity to present their case either in person or through counsel. The idea that a man must be considered innocent until he is proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt is deeply ingrained in the American sense of justice.

To the Russians and also to the French this concern for the rights of the accused seems extravagant and absurd. The farcical trial of the unlamented Laval gave the American public a liberal education in that regard. In those proceedings neither judge nor juror maintained any pretense of impartiality.

It is easy to see how people accustomed to this sort of judicial procedure, or the Moscow treason trials, would find it difficult to understand why English and Americans take such pains to respect the rights of the defendant. And it will be something of a miracle if nations with such radically different ideas work out a procedure of trying Nazi war criminals that will be satisfactory all around.

Exploded Theory

Shifting of population to larger centers because of war's necessities was expected to work permanent hardship upon smaller cities and towns. Some of the more pessimistic declared it would result in the wiping out of many smaller communities as their former inhabitants became permanently enamored of advantages presumed to go with metropolitan living.

But with war ended only a few months there is evidence that practically every one of the communities expected to suffer from loss of population is enjoying a building and business boom. Much interest is being shown in locations for business in practically every community, large and small. The so-called small town and city, always the backbone of social and economic progress, will become more important in the economic scheme of the future.

More Blessing Than Menace

Medical scientists have been made keenly aware that atomic energy may revolutionize the technique of treating many human maladies. The conquest of cancer may even be indicated.

During the race to make the atomic bomb many incidental, but nonetheless breathtaking, discoveries were made. These were carefully noted and then set aside for peacetime development. Among them were the radioactive by-products of the uranium-graphite pile. Almost any substance in the pile's atomic furnace came out with a full store of radioactivity.

Substances will be made available which will be far more effective and far cheaper in radiobology than are radium or X-rays. Atomic energy, with a mighty industrial potential and an untold healing value, can become a boon to all mankind.

Where Relief Counts

There is one consideration which has come very much to the fore in connection with the tax reduction measure which Congress is considering. It is impossible to grant very much tax relief to anybody until government spending comes down. The most important reason for reducing taxes now is to speed reconversion and reemployment.

The more directly Congress aims at this goal and the less it caters to the demands of special groups of taxpayers, the more it is likely to accomplish for the country as a whole.

This is what those who propose the immediate repeal of the excess profits tax on corporation incomes are aiming at. As Secretary of the Treasury Vinson pointed out, this particular levy is an "obstacle to business expansion. The over-all impact which this tax is likely to have on business planning as well as business profits constitutes a serious threat to our postwar employment objectives."

What is needed most of all today is a speedy increase in industrial production of peacetime goods and the new jobs that this will create. The sooner that is accomplished, the sooner the government will be able to bring its spending down and provide taxpayers with some real measure of relief.

Private Industry's Duty

Ever since the New Deal became the dominant force in our government we have heard more and more about the duty of the Federal government to give jobs and prosperity to the people if private enterprise fails. This expression of the duty of the government has become so general that it is almost taken for granted.

Just how this can be done, is of course another story. The government tried it in the thirties. There was made work of all kinds, some of it so ridiculous in its aspects that its principal benefit was making work for the jokesters and punsters. Certainly it didn't solve the problem of unemployment. We had millions out of work at the time of Pearl Harbor and even more when the war broke out in Europe in 1939. It took the flow of war materials to Europe and the marshaling of huge armies and navies in this country to bring about a labor shortage.

Now some of the left-wing economists tell us that private industry must keep everybody at work or the government will have to step in and do it. No new plans are offered. It is still the same old theory of spend and spend.

It is to be doubted whether private industry can furnish us jobs for sixty million workers, and nobody has ever yet been able to prove in cold figures that so many Americans really want to work. It is to be doubted therefore whether the government can do it without ultimately bankrupting the nation.

Of course, in our country, private industry has the duty to provide the jobs. Now if it fails in these postwar days will it be altogether private industry's fault? When we look at the high taxes, the miles and miles of red tape, the restrictions and ceilings and regulations of all sorts, we might fairly come to the conclusion that if private industry fails, bureaucratic strangulation may have a great deal to do with the failure.

Some of these days we expect to hear that the man who learned to split an atom was a Scotchman.

WASHINGTON CALLING
by MARQUIS CHILDS

Many Needlessly Held In Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—In taking apart the war machine assembled by America, there were bound to be inequities. Human beings get caught in the vast gears of a system necessarily framed for the greatest good of the greatest number.

One group, however, seems to have suffered unnecessary discrimination. These are the men on limited service because of some physical handicap that was not sufficient to keep them out of uniform. A number of letters from men in this group tell pretty much the same story.

There were barred, because of their physical handicap, from going overseas even though many repeatedly requested overseas duty. Therefore while some have three years or more of duty, they are a long way from enough points to be released.

Still others in this category have made themselves essential in their military jobs. Often they are older men, more mature and more conscientious.

Discharge Far Off

Because they do a thorough job at some technical or clerical assignment, they are judged indispensable. Consequently their chance for a discharge seems infinitely far off.

Besides the natural resentment they feel at seeing men discharged who have had far less service in point of time, they are concerned about the competitive scramble for a job with so many able-worried veterans ahead of them in the job line. This worry is greater for men who are over 30. They are fearful they will never again be able to fit into our highly competitive system.

Some sort of special provision for these men should be possible without upsetting the machinery created to get millions of citizens-soldiers back into civilian life. On points, they are at a grave disadvantage. Having gone thorough and conscientious service in what were often boring and monotonous assignments they should not be further penalized for a disability which was no fault of their own.

Seeking To Work Out Plan

On men with scientific education and students whose careers in science were interrupted, there is still no fixed demobilization policy. The Army, realizing how serious is the deficit in our science caused by the war, is trying to work out a plan which will get them back into the laboratory and the classroom. Vannevar Bush, head of the office of scientific research and development, reported recently that we were short 100,000 trained men because, unlike every other country in the world, we had not made special allowance for continuing our scientific and technical education.

The Navy has done nothing. Thousands of young men with advanced training or with special ap-

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

AID CHILD BY HOME READING

In many parts of the United States, teachers forbid the primary school child to take home his reading book. This may be warranted where the teacher is held liable for the free text-books.

But the reason for this forbidding, which is most often given by teachers, is that if the child is permitted to take his reader home he may learn some things there wrong or, what is more absurd, that he won't find the pages of his reader interesting at school after having read them at home.

Doctor Amazed

These "reasons" have always amazed me. Anyone who has carefully observed a young child knows that, as a rule, the more often he has heard or read a story, the more he enjoys hearing or reading it again.

How can a parent do any harm to the child's reading, except when she gets cross at him while he reads and builds up unhappy emotions over his reading difficulties? The wise teacher will try to prevail on the parent to be calm and patient with the child over all his book learning at home.

Suppose the parent's way of teaching the child to read is very different from the school's. Suppose she tries to help the child sound out some of the words when the school doesn't (fortunately the school is bringing back some phonics). Suppose she lets him spell

TWENTY-FIFTH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

"Give me suggestions, please, for celebrating our twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. I am a minister's wife, living in a plain, quiet way. My husband and I have had a very happy married life and I should like to observe this occasion in some significant way. Would you suggest having our friends come to our home and my serving some light refreshments?"

Answer: You may celebrate your anniversary by having a tea, a dinner or an evening party. If you will give a tea for this celebration, you may invite your friends by sending out your visiting cards (if you have visiting cards). Over your name write in ink "Tea—4 o'clock" adding the date.

If you prefer, you may call your friends on the telephone thus inviting them or write notes of invitations, whether your celebration will be a tea or an evening party.

For an afternoon tea, your refreshments should consist of: Tea, tea sandwiches and small cakes . . . finger foods only. If you give an evening party, serve a buffet supper of cold cuts, cheese, a salad, rolls, beverage, cakes, nuts and candy.

You and your husband should stand near the door to welcome your guests and give them a chance to wish you well.

Have a friend or one of your daughters pour tea. It is a difficult job for the hostess to greet incoming guests and pour too.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will mail prompt replies to readers inclosing stamped self-addressed envelope.

Great Game Of Politics

Hannegan Influence Clear In Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.

ONE OF the things beginning to protrude rather clearly in Washington is that, more than anything else, the political idea of Postmaster General and Democratic National Chairman Robert Hannegan make it difficult for the Truman Administration to take firm stands on the three vital issues of economy, taxation and labor—or, for that matter, on any other issue.

ACTUALLY, of course, the President is pretty political himself. But, left to himself, some of his friends feel, there is a chance that on certain important matters Mr. Truman might rise above politics, consider that the best politics is no politics, grasp the fact that a President easily might strengthen himself more by championing the national interests rather than the interests of special groups; that, anyhow, is the one soul-satisfying course open to him. That, however, isn't the political view at all—and the reasons are easy to understand. FOR example, Mr. Hannegan is a practical politician—and that is about all he is. Practical politics is his business. The Post Office is incidental. The Postmaster Generalship is the Cabinet job which traditionally goes to the chairman of the National Committee. The job runs itself. No one can make either a very good or a very bad Postmaster General—and few ever try. All Postmasters General are political. Mr. Hannegan eats, drinks and breathes politics. Politics is paramount with him all the time, and he views everything from the political angle, which, considering his machine background, career and committee chairmanship, is entirely natural and to be expected.

UNDER OUR system a practical politician is essential to a national administration. Party affairs have to be managed and patronage distributed by someone who knows who are entitled to the jobs and where they will do the most good. But the practical politician and patronage distributor should not become important enough to influence policies—and the fear is that Mr. Hannegan may become just that. For he presses his political views pretty hard and he is quite a forceful fellow. It is not that he has any idea about what should be done but he has a good many about what should not be done. Those who know him best say that Mr. Hannegan is a firm believer in the political effectiveness of the Roosevelt combination of 1936, 1940 and 1944, the chief factors of which were organized labor, the big city machines, the solid Negro vote in the pivotal states and the Democratic South.

THAT, he knows, was the Roosevelt formula for success at the polls. He sees no reason it should not work for Mr. Truman. Hence, it is said, he wants the President to continue "playing ball" with the CIO and its PAC in the Roosevelt way. If the President does, of course, he can have no labor policy which will protect the country from offensive and damaging labor domination. Naturally, too, Mr. Hannegan as patronage distributor does not want patronage reduced—rather the reverse. This, if Mr. Truman agrees, would make impossible any real reduction in the size and cost of the Federal machine. Naturally, too, Mr. Hannegan is for the tax exemption of 12,000,000 lower-bracket voters and, of course, for the so-called "full employment" bill, which visualizes the expenditure of billions for public works. Both these things are in line with the Roosevelt ideas of spending freely the public funds and taxing only the rich—two policies which have been proven equally deleterious to the general public health.

THE NET of all this is that the politics of a man like Mr. Hannegan is never a help to a President in formulating sound public policy. It is necessary to have a man to attend to the practical politics of an administration, but it isn't good to have him affect decisions on broad issues. There is some apprehension lest Mr. Hannegan by his insistence upon the Roosevelt formula may do so. That would not be good either for the country or for the party. So far as the first is concerned, it would prevent Mr. Truman from adequately handling the really great domestic national problems. As to the latter, it is pointed out, there are reasons the Roosevelt formula cannot be relied upon as of old.

ONE IS because Mr. Roosevelt will not be a candidate in 1948, and the formula was especially adapted to him. It will not work so well for another. A second is because the labor-union opposition is far stronger than ever before and hence its support is less effective. There is, in fact, some question as to whether it would not be more of a liability than an asset. A third is because the war is over. War and the threat of war held some millions of voters for Mr. Roosevelt in 1940 and 1944 who could not have been held otherwise. Thus, with no war, it is argued, Mr. Truman has to have something besides the Roosevelt formula to win. What he needs is support of some of the millions of anti-Roosevelt voters who can only be had by not sticking too closely to the Roosevelt political formula and the Roosevelt political philosophy. The danger of losing the other groups is slight, because they have no other place to go. There is no indication that the practical Mr. Hannegan sees these things, which means that he is a very nearsighted politician.

Washington Reports

Washington Takes Cheerful View Of Situation
Little Alarm Expressed Over Labor Conditions
Food Supply Rapidly Swinging Back To Normalcy

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Despite strikes and the threat of walkouts, Washington officials are optimistic about the chances for achieving maximum peace-time production with a minimum of trouble.

They point out that the nation's industrial machine is just about tooled up and ready to move into high gear. In fact, J. A. Krug, chairman of the WLB which is in its last days, points out that some industries, such as the automotive, are all set.

The materials situation is bright. Many items which would hamper and delay reconversion are now in rather generous supply. Aluminum, magnesium, copper, steel, lumber, cattlehide leather and rubber for tires are either plentiful or will be soon.

The nation's food supply is rapidly swinging back to normal, too. Among the items long pegged under high ration point values which will be plentiful from now on are: canned fruits and juices—including more pineapple juice in the next few months—and additional peaches, pears and fruit cocktail.

Sugar Tough Problem

Sugar is the one outstanding "tough" food item on the list. Despite the 1,600,000 tons of sugar found in Java by the Dutch, rationing probably will continue at least until the first of next year—maybe longer.

One of the big reasons for the general improvement in the food picture is tremendously reduced army buying.

Great Britain is making a strong bid for commercial airline business and is rushing reconversion of combat-type planes to get a head start, if possible, on the United States and other countries.

The Short Sunderland flying boat is being converted to carry 30 passengers. Some of these may go to Argentina. The Short Stirling four-engined bomber will carry 18 passengers.

Battle for Airlines On

Another four-engined job, the Avro Lancaster, is being turned into a luxury liner for only nine passengers. It is scheduled for use on Atlantic routes and from Australia to Ceylon.

Several British contractors are bidding for business from Linea Aerea Nacional of Chile. They reportedly are offering to sell commercial transports to that country at prices considerably below those quoted for similar equipment by United States manufacturers.

Best information is that the British are dumping their military transports into the foreign buying field in an effort to prevent various countries from using United States equipment.

It appears that the big battle for postwar air supremacy is on.

The smoke of congressional battle appears to be disappearing, however, and members are beginning to talk of an autumnal recess.

The desire for a two-month holiday is strongest in the Senate where November 1 is being spoken of as the likeliest date, with the recess to extend until after the first year.

Both houses reassembled September 5, following the Japanese collapse, cutting their summer recess short at the request of President Truman, who outlined a five-point "must" reconversion program.

The World and the Mud Puddles

OPEN LETTER TO H. R.

As I have said in this column before, there is some uncertainty in the minds of many citizens of the United States as to whether President Truman is a New Deal Democrat or a Southern Democrat; whether he is a Leftist or a Rightist, or whether he is just an executive trying to please both the Right and the Left.

Now, while the State of Missouri did not join the Confederacy in the Civil War and the Missouri Democrats cannot be said actually to be Southern Democrats, yet the Missouri Democrats made a valiant effort to straddle the fence and that state of mind may still be a guide to the President.

Anyway, a gentleman who was born and bred in Missouri and who later became a citizen of the State of California, writes an open letter to the President as follows:

"Dear Harry: Now listen, Mr. President, while you are the President, you are to me just plain Harry Truman from Missouri, and I don't want you to let this new job mess you all up and get not only yourself but the whole world into a fightin' jam.

"Between you and me and the gate post, Harry, people were smiling behind their hands when Fate stepped in and made you President. Now we're in for it, they said. With that innocent boy from Missouri as

Hints On Etiquette

When a couple is calling on friends, it is the woman who first suggests leaving.

LOOKING AT LIFE
By ERICH BRANDEIS

Since I have been living in the country many of my city friends ask me how I can possibly stand the lonesomeness and monotony of such a life.

"Aren't you stagnating?" they ask me. "Don't you get tired of the sameness, the lack of excitement, the constant repetition of country life?"

Well, sometimes I wonder whether a person accustomed to the swift pace of city life can ever completely adapt himself to rural existence. I wonder, as well, whether people who have always lived in the country don't miss a lot of life—and life, after all, is progress and change.

Then, last evening, I read an article by that acrimonious critic, George Jean Nathan, apropos of that short-lived play, "Live Life Again," about which the author, Dan Totheroh, had said:

"My most important reason for laying this play as well as my previous ones in the rural regions is that cities do not lend themselves as completely as does the countryside to the poetic form of expression. The sort of poetic excitement I try to achieve springs only from the soil, not from pavements."

Which impels Mr. Nathan to remark that the man who wrote some of the world's greatest dramatic poetry—I suspect he refers to Mr. Shakespeare—chose for his settings such cities as Athens, Alexandria, Milan, Verona, Venice, Padua, Marseilles, London, Paris, Vienna and Rome.

It is an old notion, says Mr. Nathan, that Nature in the raw is ever more poetically stimulating than when it has been edited, adorned and embellished by the human hand; and that a cow in a pasture is consequently and inevitably more inspiring to the romantic spirit than a beautiful woman in a drawing room.

As I am writing this I look out of my window over the Berkshire hills. These hills, soft and green in summer, are now a mass of flaming red and yellow and orange, and all Nature seems to be on fire.

It is a gorgeous sight—and yet, I am lonesome. These were the same reds and yellows and oranges last autumn and the autumn before and they will be the same next fall and a hundred falls from now.

But tomorrow my wife and I are going to New York for a week.

It's autumn in New York, too, and there will be reds and yellows and oranges, and New York, too, will be aflame. But the reds and yellows and oranges will be in the shop windows, and the flames will be the flames of theatre marquees and the bright lights of Broadway and of gay cafes and night clubs and in the faces of the cave-dwellers.

There will be change and progress and excitement and the spirit of competition and achievement and LIFE.

We look forward to that change and to these thrills. And, after a week of it, we will be glad to come back home to Connecticut, better for having had some of the glamour of the pavements and better for being able to have the glamour of Nature as well.

There is poetry in New York and on the farm, in Hollywood and in Lubbock, in Pittsburgh and New Castle, because poetry is not in a theatre or a night club or in a tree or a mountainside, but in your heart, wherever you are.

But, to appreciate whatever is in you, don't let it stagnate. Get change. Enjoy life by comparison, not by habit. If you live in the country, go to the city for a change. If the city is your dwelling place, get out into the hills whenever you can.

Let your life be a BALANCED ration.

SAD, GLAD DAY

Yes, there were tears (mothers, world over, shed
When first to the schoolroom their baby is led)
And heartache and lumps in the throat and all that,
As they turn back to look at the child where she sat,
And I went away with wet eyes like a fool
When Ellen Elizabeth started to school.

"It doesn't seem possible, really," said I.
Since the day she was born five glad years have gone by
As though it were yesterday I can recall
The night that I paced that grim hospital hall
And waited her coming and broke every rule.
Now, Ellen Elizabeth's started to school!"
In her sunbonnet blue and a pretty new frock
They started away at the stroke of the clock.
And so brave they appeared and so happy was she.
They wondered just what was the matter with me.
I said: "It's the weather; too hot or too cool!"
As Ellen Elizabeth started to school.

Sharpsville Host To Presbyterians Of Shenango Area

With delegates present from the Ellwood City, New Castle, New Wilmington, and Sharon district, the fall meeting of the Shenango Presbyterial was held Thursday, October 18, in the Sharpsville Presbyterian church.

"United to Preserve," was the theme of the conference, with Dr. C. B. Salsbury, of Granado, Ariz., and Mrs. Joseph Cochran, missionary to Iran, as the principal speakers.

Dr. Salsbury, whose work among the Navaho Indians, told of the training of young Indian nurses, and of the achievements of the Indians in the armed forces. Mrs. Cochran explained that as most of the people in Iran are poverty-stricken, they will fall in line with whatever teachings can offer them the most.

Mrs. William Drake of Leesburg presided at the morning session, at which Mrs. Paul Shields of the Hopewell church led the devotionals. Mrs. William Sheldon Blair of Sharpsville extended greetings to the group, with Mrs. Clair Boyer of Slippery Rock responding.

Reports of the Presbyterial officers was followed by the greeting of the president, Mrs. F. W. Byers, of New Wilmington, and the synodical report, also by Mrs. Byers.

Organ music by Mrs. Ella Byerly of Sharpsville opened the afternoon session, with Mrs. Charles Nelson of Bessemer presiding and Mrs. R. M. Patterson of New Castle leading the worship service.

The addresses of Dr. Salsbury and Mrs. Cochran followed the roll call and treasurer's report, with Miss Shirley Roberts of Sharpsville singing a solo between the two talks.

Benediction was by Rev. William Sheldon Blair, pastor.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

The State Police Say:

The Halloween season is approaching and already complaints are being received where property has been damaged and obstructions placed on the highways. The State Police spend many hours investigating these minor depredations, time that could be spent in patrolling the highway. Citizens have the right to expect that their property will be protected. It is very dangerous to place obstructions such as corn shocks, logs, etc., on any highway, and such practices will not be tolerated. The State Police want to see all the young people have a good time, with good harmless fun, but the destruction of property and jeopardizing the lives and safety of automobile drivers is not fun. Will you co-operate?

Mother Of Three May Plead Insanity

LISBON, O., Oct. 22.—Considering an insanity defense, Mrs. Olive May Long, 33, charged with first degree murder in the Ohio river drowning September 23 at Wellsville, Ohio of her 16 month old baby, is expected to change her plea today in the Columbiana Court House.

The State defense attorneys appointed in her defense conferred with Mrs. Long and were granted until tomorrow to change the pela.

A plea of "not guilty" by reason of insanity was hinted after Mrs. Long, whose husband Pfc. James J. Long is serving in the Philippines. She was returned to the Mahoning County jail, in Youngstown.

Mother of three other children, Mrs. Long will appear before Judge Joel H. Sharp if the plea is changed. If so changed, she will be committed to the Massillon State Hospital for an insanity test.

Mrs. Long admitted she and her three year old daughter were at the river's edge but insisted a "man" drowned the child.

Make 40 Arrests For Vandalism

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 22.—With damage caused by pre-Halloween pranksters already running into hundreds of dollars, Sheriff Ralph E. Elser disclosed that he has opened an "all-out" campaign in the rural areas which to date has netted 40 arrests.

Fifteen juveniles from one township alone have been brought to county jail and their parents have been called into court, Elser said.

The damage ranges from soaping windows to breaking windows; the youths have torn down corn shocks; they have thrown, not grains of corn but the whole ears; rocks have been thrown through windows, shattering glass and endangering occupants of the houses.

Son May Land In Jail

"We're going to break it up!" declared Elser today. "Though we're undermanned, our deputies are going to go the limit to do a job a lot of parents ought to be doing. From many parents we've received fine co-operation. From many others, we've received none at all."

Elser said one truck driver complained that he was afraid to drive through one area west of the city. Youths pelted his cab with rocks and other missiles, he told the sheriff. Passenger cars are not exempt.

"So," said the sheriff in a general warning to rural parents, "if your son should not happen to turn up some night, or morning, call the county jail—we may have him."

WASHINGTON CALLING

titudes for science are going through the motions of schooling in techniques for which they will never have the slightest use. They are wasting their time when they could be preparing for careers in science that would serve the nation.

Complete Blind Spot

The most complete blind spot, however, exists—as it has throughout the war—at selective service. They are going right on drafting men out of science; young men urgently needed if we are to continue to hold our pre-eminent place in scientific advancement.

This persistent stupidity of selective service raises a major question about the capacity of the military, as it is constituted today, to direct a system of universal military service with its far-reaching effect on our national life. It is a question that has not a little to do with present doubts on Capitol Hill.

A recent letter cites the case of a young man of 20 drafted as he was about to get his degree as a chemical engineer. He asked for an extension of eight weeks to finish a research thesis that might have thrown light on a problem troubling industry. Even though this request was backed by an urgent plea from the head of the school, it was turned down.

It is, of course, very easy to put all the blame on military men. We ourselves, by the urgency of our demands to "bring the boys home," have helped to create the political pressure which makes any deviation from ironclad rules difficult or impossible.

ATROCITIES

We are hearing a lot nowadays about the suffering in Europe. People were systematically and scientifically starved.

Children who are not properly fed suffer damage which is never repaired in later years.

In our own land, many people eat a lot of food but are not properly nourished.

Perhaps if we tried as hard to feed people properly as Hitler tried to starve them we would help some.

People need protein, fat, carbohydrated, minerals and vitamins in proper proportions.

Fat babies are not necessarily in good condition. Too much fat is bad either in children or adults.

If protein and vitamins are looked after properly there is usually not much danger of a shortage of the other things.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

President, the Big Shots and political smoothies will have a Roman holiday. The Lord help us, they said.

"That insinuating slur at Missouri got my nanny, Harry. We Missourians start a campaign by issuing a moratorium on all slander and libel laws and pitch into each other hammer and tongs. But when elections are over we all go out together on the river bottoms for a fish fry and a few kegs of beer and unite our voices to appropriate melodies about 'How the Country Has been Saved Again.' Later we gather around the camp fire and try to fill four flushes and belly-straights.

"But when the hand of Providence precipitated you into the Presidency six months ago, I relieved public anxiety and concern out here on the West Coast by rushing to your defense and assuring the nervous population that they would be surprised in Old Harry. For me to say a thing like that about a Democrat, any Democrat, was to jeopardize my whole reputation as a man of fixed and uncomprising convictions.

"For years I had been dancing the cancan and hootcha macootch with a continuous flow of warnings, if not invectives, about what the reckless extravagant and crystal gazing New Dealers, posing as Democrats, were doing to the country, whilst honest and deserving Republicans were left to starve.

"Here I was transplanted out here in California which has become overrun with Okies and Arkies and other John Steinbeckers, until this State, which had always held its head high as an honored and respected Republican Commonwealth, suddenly switched to a vociferous and noisome, if not diabolical, million majority of those palookas. It began with the Epickers, the Ham 'n' Eggs, the Thirty Thursdayers, the Utopians, not to mention more new way of going to heaven than ever were conceived by old men who dreamed dreams or young men who saw visions.

"This went on with great mortification to us until the war came along and the Steinbeckers were put to work at economic royalist wages making fighting machines, and they could get steaks smothered in onions while tried and true Republicans had to be satisfied with a spot of spam and three gallons of gas a week.

"No sooner had these Steinbeckers gotten enough money together to make a jingle in their pockets than the New Deal majority began to dwindle and lo and behold we elected a Republican Governor and began having some sense again. Socialists and ragtaggers are only that way when they're broke. As soon as they accumulate two pigs they quit being Socialists. Dividing up ceases to be a virtue.

"Now what I am afraid of, Mr. President, is that your natural sweet and emotional nature along with your great Missouri heart, together with your inherent love of staying in office, is going to undermine your mule-like intelligence. Don't let these city slickers glamorize you. I'll admit it is tempting and sets a guy dizzy. I began worrying about you when you took off for Potsdam to hoist a few vodkas with Big Joe of Russia, especially when they put Churchill out of office and elected a Socialist in England. Socialist England and Communist Russia is a stiff combination to go up against, even for a Missourian. And when it came out that you made the trip in that palatial built plane built especially for your predecessor, and that before his death he had made a little gift of personal palatial planes to Joe and Winston out of us taxpayers' money, I gagged for a minute, finally gaining consciousness muttering to myself, 'What the hell.' 'What the hell,' infamous and inelegant perhaps, but subconscious animation, and now they tell me, Harry, you've gone and given that French de Gaulle a plane. How do you get that way, chum?

"Coming home from your trip abroad, the world all of a sudden began looking small to you, too. And that and stomach ulcers have been the beginning of the downfall of men of greater capacities than you. Harry, take it from me. Look what happened to Wendell. Even Big Joe is about to cash in.

"You had a lot of friends in Congress, Harry, even Republicans, and out of congress, such hide-bounders as I and we cheered you to the echo when you stopped lend-lease and bounced Madam Perkins, Attorney Biddle, Henry Morgenthau and Harry Hopkins, and we hoped that you would include Milk Bottle Wallace and Stormy Ickes before you stopped, but you didn't.

"Now when you keep talking about the government guaranteeing sixty million jobs, insisting on a Twenty-five Dollars a week dole for non-workers, a Fifty Billion Dollars biennial budget in peace time and begun making medicine with Sidney Hillman and his C. I. O., you are taking the starch out of us, Harry, and puncturing your own sails, old boy, in a build-up for your friend Wallace, who will be the white hope mystic for the crystal gazers in 1948, and you won't like that.

"My advice to you, as one Missourian to another, and as two punks who are for the American way as against any and all looney isms, is to keep off that private Presidential yacht, that you trade that fancy airplane for a mule, and lay off building up an appetite for vodka, caviar and quail on toast. Those things do things to you and you'll never again qualify for a seat around a catfish fry in the moonlight on the Missouri bottoms where all hatchets are buried, and people are just Americans.

"I'm sure getting disappointed, Harry. I been aimin' to tell you that I thought through you America would get shed of all that baloney. I taken you at your worth, I sure did. I hope somebody sends you a madstone before it's too late.

"Yours respectfully
"YOU KNOW ME, HARRY."

More Police Sent To Strike Area In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—(INS)—The recent flare of violence in Pittsburgh's produce yard strike today caused police to assign additional details to the area as no immediate settlement in the month-old walkout seemed near.

The latest flareup occurred Saturday night when John Latona, 29, of New Kensington, reported to police that he was beaten and his truck stolen while making a delivery in Pittsburgh.

A short time after the assault police arrested Frank Vitanzo, of Pittsburgh, who Latona identified as one of his assailants.

Wage Increase Answer Will Come Tuesday

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22.—(INS)—An answer to demands by the CIO-United Steelworkers for a $2 a day wage increase in the basic steel industry was expected to be given tomorrow by the United States Steel Corporation.

Negotiations between the union and five subsidiaries of United States Steel are scheduled to resume in Pittsburgh after being recessed for two weeks.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

out to her, while she is busy, the hard words for her to pronounce.

Reads Out

Suppose she even reads the lesson aloud to the child. How can such experiences harm the child, in case it is a pleasant experience? As a rule, the more ways of attack in reading, the greater the opportunities to make progress at it.

Consider, too, what family comradeship can develop about the book taken home. One of the strongest motives the young child has to learn to read is that he might be able to read to his parents, grandparents or young brother or sister. See, moreover what a gain when he does.

It is easy to see why the mother raised the question she did in the following letter.

Three Children

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have three children in school, two in the third and one in the second grade. I always have read to them a great deal until last year when I was not feeling so well. So now my eldest daughter likes to get out books that I have read many times to them and read when I haven't time to read to her. She even brings home third grade readers that she has never read before. Naturally there are some words that she has never had before.

"I am afraid if I allow her to read these books she might pronounce some words wrong or skip them. On the other hand, I don't want to discourage her so she won't want to read stories for herself. Please tell me what to do. A stamped envelope is enclosed."

In answering this mother, I commended her on having read to her children, advised her to let some household things go in order to continue to read to them and entreated her to encourage that child to go on reading for fun at home any book no matter how hard, so long as she enjoys it; also to induce this child to read some from easy books to the younger children.

Lawrence County Union Of Sodalities Sponsor Day Of Recollection Sunday

"Faith, Hope and Charity," are the virtues of goodness," so said Rev. John O'Rourke, of St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburgh, when he addressed the Lawrence County Union of Sodalities, Sunday afternoon, at their Day of Recollection in the Madonna church, Oakland.

The Day of Recollection is a day of meditation and prayer, and is sponsored yearly by the L. C. U. S. This year the intention was in Thanksgiving for Victory, and upwards of 300 Sodalists attended.

Father O'Rourke Speaker

Father O'Rourke was the speaker of the afternoon, and during the program, he gave several meditations bearing important messages to the Sodalists.

It will not matter if you gain only worldly riches, and if you do not gain prayer was one of the thoughts expounded by Father O'Rourke. "Sodalists should pattern their lives to that of the Blessed Mother," Father O'Rourke said in another mediation, "and then you are certain of leading good lives. In his concluding sermon, Fr. O'rourke urged the virtue of humility in the lives of all, for the Blessed Lord is a great example of Humility, and Humility can bring about the grace of Almighty God.

Hymns were sung during the services with Sister M. Sylvia at the organ. Rev. Fr. Ignatius Koller was in charge of the stations of the cross. Rev. Fr. John Unger gave the opening remarks at 1:30 p. m.

Holy Hour

The Day of Recollection concluded with a Holy Hour from 4 to 5 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Francis Kuczynski was celebrant; Rev. F. John Unger, deacon; and Rev. Fr. William Pisarcik, subdeacon. Rev. Fr. O'Rourke was the master of ceremonies.

During the Holy Hour, the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament was in charge of Rev. Fr. William Pisarcik; Rev. Fr. John M. Unger, led the recitation of the rosary and litany. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, and "Holy God We Praise Thy Name," brought the impressive services to a successful close.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, director of the L. C. U. S. was unable to attend due to illness.

President of the L. C. U. S. is Margaret Naples, and she was aided with a committee in the arrangements.

Ballad Singers Open Guild Concert Season

American Ballad Singers To Appear In Cathedral Tuesday Night, October 23

Opening the 1945-46 season for the Metropolitan Concert Guild, the American Ballad Singers will appear in the Cathedral Tuesday night, October 23, in a presentation of old time American ballads.

Six soloists comprise the Ballad Singers and for some two hours they regale the audience with old time American folk music, ballads of the hill countries and the plains, music of the pioneers, songs that are a part of the American tradition.

Some of the ballads go back to the Pilgrim Fathers. One of the earliest American ballads, "Springfield Mountain" is in their repertory, and another is Stephen Foster's "Ho for California."

The program is arranged by Elie Siegmeister who wrote the score for "Sing Out Sweet Land". The numbers used by the American Ballad Singers are earthy, tuneful, lilting, an evening's entertainment whether the listener is a musician of years of training or an ordinary layman who the only Wagner deserving of fame played shortstop for Pittsburgh.

NO ELECTION TALK

About this time of year the corridor in the court house is filled with election talk. This year there is hardly any. The election promises to be the quietest of many years. But the quiet is that before the storm for next year, with service men home and the war behind us, politics will again be in the forefront.

U. S. Gets Possession Of Largest Airport In Middle East Area

By J. C. OESTREICHER
I. N. S. Foreign Editor

The United States Army Air Corps scored a notable victory in its drive for maintenance of aerial mastery over the world.

Dispatches from Port Said disclosed that Payne Field, the largest of all airports in the Middle East and one of the greatest in the world, would become exclusive property of the United States under a 99-year concession.

Which means that in the eastern Mediterranean area anyway, regardless of whatever happens to other hard-won American bases throughout the world, the roar of American engines and the shadow of American wings will be readily on hand as a menace—more than a warning—to potential aggressors.

Air Transport "Miracle"

Payne Field is one of the miracles achieved by the Air Transport Command and its inimitable corps of engineers and builders. Far larger than LaGuardia Field in New York, it can accomodate an almost unlimited number of airplanes. Its buildings are of permanent concrete structure and its runways of imperishable stone.

Lifting of military restrictions on information regarding American installations throughout the world permits disclosure that Payne Field was perhaps the most important funnel of United States strength into the Mediterranean and into Russia.

It was the hub of a transport and supply route that extended to Casablanca in Morocco and Karachi in India, with jut-off air strips at Smyrna and Istanbul in Turkey—the bases which Germany tried so hard to win and failed.

Once Fated Point

Since the end of the war in Europe, Payne Field has led a more or less peaceful existence. But there was a time when the fate of the world depended upon it.

For it was from Payne Field that British Field Marshal Sir Bernard Law Montgomery launched the Eighth Army attack at El Alamein, the assault which smashed Field Marshal Erwin Romel's Afrikokorps and sent the Nazis reeling back into the continent of Europe where their destiny was sealed in a morass of blood and bones.

Thousands of planes took off from Payne Field in support of that historic desert operation, and without the airport so fit and ready for a gigantic military operation, the war might have been prolonged for years.

Huge Liberators Land

It was nothing unusual in later stages of the conflict when Africa was the major supply base for battles in both Western Europe and in Russia, for as many as 400 gigantic Liberators to put into Payne Field one after another. And when they were all down on the runways and fields of its great expanse the huge planes were virtually swallowed up, with plenty of room left for more.

This is the sort of base that Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander-in-chief of the air forces and Gen. George C. Kenny want to maintain throughout the world. They see in such installations more than a first line of defense. They constitute a threat that any would-be warmaker cannot ignore.

Several Injured In Auto Collision

Crash Occurs In Vicinity Of Rose Point On Route 422 Sunday Afternoon

Several persons were injured at 4:30 p. m. Sunday, eight miles east of the city line, on Route 422, when two autos crashed head-on according to State police.

The injured:

Mrs. Mary Deeb, 51, South Main street, Masontown; arm injured.

Mary Grim, West Grant street, received injuries but was not hospitalized.

According to State police, the latter was an occupant of the car of Sam DeProspero, 309 West Wabash avenue, as was Miss Bulisco. Mrs. Deeb was riding in the car of Abraham Deeb, Masontown.

It was reported that DeProspero's car coming from the opposite direction, left the current of traffic and his car and that of Deeb crashed head-on. Both vehicles were damaged badly.

Some Oil Company Employes Accept 15 Per Cent Offer

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(INS)—The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana announced today that unions representing about 2,000 Chicago area tank wagon drivers, salesman, and clerical employes have accepted a 15 per cent wage increase offered by the company.

Thirty-eight of forty-one midwest locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, AFL, have accepted the offer. These include the eight teamster locals with which the Standard Oil of Indiana has had contracts.

The company said it made the offer before the recent oil refinery workers strike and that even though some locals had not then accepted the offer, their members remained at work.

St. Mary's Group Presents Operetta

Final Performance To Be Staged Tonight At 8:30 O'Clock In Catholic Center

Two capacity audiences have already heard the "Sunbonnet Girl," an operetta by Morgan and Johnson, presented by a cast of 100 of the Delta Gamma Sigma of St. Mary's.

The performances were given in the Catholic Center, and on Sunday afternoon, the children were entertained with a matinee. Sunday evening a large audience attended the first performance. This evening the final performance of Sunbonnet Girl will be given.

As predicted, Sunbonnet Girl, has proved itself a successful musical extravaganza. The St. Mary's performers go through the lilting tunes and songs with adeptness of veterans of the musical stage.

Taking the lead in the musical are Mary Jones and Francis Morrissey. These able leading performers are supported by a large cast of 100.

St. Mary's, Delta Gamma Sigma again, as in the past, have proven to the city, that they have produced another smash hit.

Rev. Fr. Francis King, of St. Mary's, is the director of the glee club.

War Trophies Come Wrapped In News

Just an indication that The News does get around is the fact that when Elgin MacConnell, son of former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacConnell, sent home to his family a collection of trophies of the Anzio fighting, the pieces were all wrapped in copies of The News.

A 36th field artillery battalion veteran of the Anzio beachhead fighting, the drive through Rome and the Mediterranean invasion of France, Elgin MacConnell sent to his family some knives, a death-head pennant, bayonet and campaign hat.

Mr. MacConnell is now executive officer of the New School, a division of Evanston township high school, Evanston, Ill.

Fumes Fatal To Two At Bethlehem Steel

Eight Others Overcome By Escaping Fumes, Coroner Asserts Today

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Oct. 22.—(INS)—Coroner Joseph V. Goveker today blamed gas fumes from a leaking pipe for the death of two men and felling eight others at the Johnstown plant of the Bethlehem Steel Company.

The dead men were Milan Bosnic, 37, a repairman's helper, and Philip Brady, 50, a weighmaster for the Conemaugh and Black Lick Railroad.

Six of the eight men overcome by the deadly fumes are still under treatment in a hospital.

Goveker said a leak was discovered in a gas pipe that led into the boiler room where Bosnic was working. Brady, who went into the boiler room to find Bosnic and was overcome.

Ward Soldier Speaks Japanese Language

Pfc. Howard F. Snyder Jr. Transferred To Japan; In Intelligence Reconnaissance Squad

Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Snyder of 519 West Clayton street have been advised by their son, Pfc. Howard F. Snyder, Jr., that he had been transferred from Zamboanga City, Mindinao Island, Philippines, to Kure Island, Japan. Howard says the water journey was 21 days, being caught enroute in a typhoon; they were in Okinawa bay during the severe storm. Although their ship was large, it was battered somewhat but no lives were lost.

Pfc. Snyder is attached to the intelligence reconnaissance squad. Commencing his studies on Biak Island, north of New Guinea, a year ago, he has learned to speak, read, write and translate the Japanese language. Says he finds the language interesting as he delves further into it.

Howard has been with the armed forces for two years this month and overseas 21 months.

Society Observes Anniversary Day

Albino Roumanian Society Marks 39 Years Of Service In Celebration Sunday

Thirty-nine years of organized fraternal service were observed Sunday, October 21, by the members of the Albino Roumanian society and a list of invited guests. The celebration opened in the morning with a religious service and at 1:15 a dinner was served in the club house on South Jefferson street.

In addition to the celebration of the organization of the society, tribute was paid to the 48 young men of the organization in the service and an especial tribute paid to the memory of Pvt. Alexander Russo of the Marines who was killed in action.

For the dinner the dining tables were filled with members, their families and guests. Peter Pacurar was chairman of the day and was assisted as toastmaster of the dinner by John Suciu. Short addresses were made by Judge W. Walter Braham, City Councilman Albert A. Hoyland, Bart Richards, Adolf Green and two ministers, Rev. Nicholas Moldovan of Farrell and Rev. John Stamila of Youngstown. During the program several glees were sung by a chorus of young ladies under the direction of Mrs. Nicholas Moldovan.

The society was organized in 1906 and after some years erected the present large clubhouse it occupies. In work connected with the war the society has done a job comparable with any other fraternal organization. War bonds, Red Cross drives, United War Work drives, all have been supported with service and money.

NAACP Discusses Problems Sunday

Reveal State Convention Will Be Held In New Castle Next September

At a mass meeting held in the Union Baptist church Sunday afternoon, reports were given on the state convention of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People by Dr. James B. Gillespie and Bert Hall, who were delegates from the New Castle chapter.

Dr. G. W. Garnet, the president, presided, and discussion was had on restricted covenants for property, and better housing conditions for Negroes. The blue discharge given many of the soldiers was also discussed.

It was revealed by the delegates that the state convention in 1946 will meet in New Castle, during the month of September.

Miss Edna Alexander and Miss Alice Gillespie contributed piano numbers, and the Gospel Starlights under the direction of Mrs. U. S. Munnerlyn also contributed several chorus numbers.

Four Are Killed In Auto Crash

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 22.—Four persons were killed and eight injured in the collision Saturday night of two automobiles on the fogbound Connellsville-Uniontown highway, near Connellsville.

The dead:

Mike Krassa, 21, of Continental No. 1, mining community near here; John Swope, 53, Wheeler, Pa.; Mrs. Lillian Swope, 50, his wife; Frank H. O'Brady, 25, Maidsville, W. Va., Navy seaman first class.

State police continued their investigation of the tragic wreck, announcing that none of the injured with the possible exception of Mrs. Edna Soldano, 25, Wheeler, suffering from internal injuries, is seriously injured.

Victory Bond Rally Held By Ahepans

Meeting Held In St. George Church Sunday Augurs Well For Bond Sales

Sponsored by the Order of Ahepa, a bond rally for the Eighth Victory Loan was held Sunday night in the St. George Greek Orthodox church on East Reynolds street. About 150 were present with Speer Marousis as the chairman of the meeting.

Judge W. Walter Braham, chairman of the bond campaign, spoke on the urgency of this campaign, of the need for everyone to make it a personal affair. He commended the Greeks for their support in previous campaigns and asked that this last campaign be put over in the same fine fashion.

Co-Chairman England

Co-Chairman Clarence M. England also spoke and asked that the detail of the campaign be followed closely. Much of the success of this campaign will depend upon personal work he said and he also asked for the co-operation of the group. Other addresses were made by Mrs. Frances Tarnopolis, of Pittsburgh, a representative of the treasury department, and Attorney Gus Kaufman of Pittsburgh. A gripping motion picture, "Diary of a Sergeant" was shown by Mr. England. Following the meeting, refreshments were served in the basement.

As a sentimental gesture recognizing the heroism of Greek Premier Metaxis, who refused Mussolini's surrender demand on October 28, 1940, the U. S. government has set October 28 this year as the date for bond solicitations by Greeks in America. The formal opening of the bond campaign comes on October 29.

Plan Poultry Demonstrations

Poultry Extension Specialist Kaufman Will Conduct Two Demonstrations Here Thursday

Two poultry meetings which will be of interest to Lawrence County poultry raisers have been arranged by the Lawrence County Agriculture Extension association for Thursday, October 25.

The first of these will be a culling demonstration at the farm of G. A. Bradley of Pulaski township when H. H. Kaufman, extension poultry specialist of Penn State college, will show how to select layers from non-layers, and how to pick out the heavy producers.

In the evening at 8 o'clock, a 4-H Capon Club roundup will take place at the F. W. Walker company plant at 426 Croton avenue. A number of 4-H club members will exhibit live capons, and Mr. Kaufman will demonstrate poultry dressing methods. He will show hot-scald, semi-scald, and dry picking methods, and will also demonstrate the use of a mechanical picker.

Any poultry raiser interested is invited to attend these meetings.

Thousands Of Pacific Yanks See 'Oklahoma'

Smash Musical Is Presented For Soldiers And Sailors In Southwest Pacific Areas

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—(INS)—More than 1,700,000 soldiers and sailors in the Southwest Pacific had one advantage recently that their comrades in arms in New York didn't have—they got to see "Oklahoma!"

A special USO unit of the smash musical, which is still practically impossible to get into in New York, returned to New York for a reunion today at a Theater Guild party for one of the stars of the show, stunning young Bonita Bimrose.

The reddish-blonde Miss Bimrose, still a little yellow-skinned from repeated doses of the anti-malaria drug, atabrine, got something special out of the tour—a New York stage contract. She took over the role of "Ado Annie", in the New York company, the comedy lead, the same part she played in the overseas version.

Big Overseas Unit

The company was one of the biggest overseas units, an acting company of 38 members, plus a Navy band of 36 pieces.

"The band was one of the nicest additions," Bonnie said. "It was given to us by Admiral Kincaid, commander of the Seventh fleet, after he heard our second performance in Hollandia."

The show traveled more than 50,000 miles by air in eight giant transport planes and more than 20,000 miles in Army and Navy trucks, jeeps and every conceivable other type of vehicle.

"We had huge audiences," the Chicago-born Miss Bimrose revealed, "from 15,000 to 22,000 men at almost every show."

One of the company's biggest thrills was luncheon aboard the battleship U. S. S. Texas, shortly after it had concluded (successfully) an engagement with Jap surface vessels. Another was when Mrs. Douglas MacArthur attended a performance in Manila.

Often they played in spots where Jap snipers still hid out, and often the stage was under armed guard for protection.

Sgt. J. L. Thomas Discharged After Five Years Service

S. Sgt. John F. Thomas, son of Evan Thomas of 921 Winslow avenue, has been honorably discharged from the U. S. Army Air Forces after five years of service. He has served as an instructor for the past several years. He was stationed at camps in Illinois, California, Colorado and New Mexico.

His family is happy to see him again after a 4½-year separation.

He received his discharge papers from separation camp at Roswell, N. M.

After spending a few weeks with his father here, he will return to Los Angeles, Calif., to join his wife and baby.

Transportation Protest Is Made

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 22—(INS)—Five hundred veterans of the third fleet were enroute to east coast homes today, after protesting what they termed being shipped around "like cattle in a dirty train without proper sanitation."

The veterans, who left San Francisco, on furloughs ranging from 15 to 30 days, charged in wires to Chicago newspapers:

1. The train lacked proper sanitation facilities.
2. The train was sidetracked repeatedly all the way from the west coast.
3. Because of the delay, many of the veterans will have only two or three days left to spend at home.

The protest said in part:

"Many furloughs will be cut to only three or four days with families and friends whom we have not seen in almost two years.

"If that is gratitude, we thank you."

Continue Probe Of Attempt To Break Prison

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 22—(INS)—Police today continued their probe into the attempted jail break of three prisoners, one of which was the confessed slayer of Fayette county's "sunshine girl", from the Uniontown jail.

Officers said that Frederick A. Hauser, accused killer of Anna Elizabeth Dryer, and George and Emil Kopacka, confessed robbers, came into possession of several hack saw blades and had succeeded in cutting through two bars in a cell block before the plot was discovered.

Hauser, police reported, attempted to avoid questioning, and in an effort to escape officers in the jail, kicked a deputy warden in the face.

Hauser and the Kopacka brothers were placed in solitary confinement pending action by the prison board.

Scientists Are Given Reminder

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—(INS)—Secretary of War Patterson reminded scientists that security still limits discussion of atomic energy to material contained in the Smyth report—official document on the atom bomb.

Patterson stressed, however, that scientists should feel that it is proper for them as citizens to join actively in public discussion of issues involved in atomic science.

Inviting all citizens—particularly American scientists—to take advantage of their constitutional rights to participate in public discussion, Patterson said:

"Security, of course, still requires that nothing beyond the specific subject matter contained in the Smyth report be brought into discussion, and the use of due care that matters outside the contents of this report and still under security regulations be not inadvertently encroached upon."

NEW WILMINGTON SERVICE MEN ARE PROMOTED

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 20.—Two local servicemen have been advanced in rank while serving overseas.

Gordon Pitzer, son of Mrs. James A. Pitzer, has been promoted to sergeant. He is serving with the army in Germany.

Advanced to staff sergeant is John Reed McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reed McFarland. S. Sgt. McFarland has been stationed in Karachi, India, for the past two years with the army transport command.

Pfc. R. McCandless Receives Discharge

Completes Nine Years Of Service; With Combat Engineers In European Theatre

Pfc. Raymond R. McCandless, 33 years old, one of the six sons in the service of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCandless of R. D. 1, has been honorably discharged after nine years of service in the U. S. army. He received his discharge from Indiantown Gap on October 18.

Pfc. McCandless was in the first division of combat engineers, attached to the third army, being overseas for seven and a half years. He was stationed in Algiers, French Morocco, Tunisia, Sicily, Normandy, northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes and central Europe.

While overseas he was awarded the good conduct medal, distinguished unit B medal with two oak leaf clusters, Europe-African eastern service medal with eight bronze stars and the American defense service medal.

In May, 1944, Pfc. McCandless was wounded in Germany.

His brother, S. Sgt. Donald G. McCandless, a member of a B-24 crew, was killed over Munich, Germany, on June 11, 1944. His other brothers recently discharged are: Chester, Edward, Robert and Charles, the latter also completing nine years of service.

Pfc. McCandless has two sisters, Mrs. John Wyza and Mrs. John Winkler of this city. He expects to re-enlist in the service in the near future.

Large Mission Pledge Received

Receive Pledge Offering Of $5,664 At Conference At Alliance Church

A pledge offering of $5,664 was received yesterday for the support of the foreign work of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in the Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, at the closing services of the annual missionary convention and Bible conference.

During the week, various missionaries portrayed the world-wide work of the society in the spreading of the gospel. The services climaxed Sunday with a platform rally when seven missionaries participated in the service giving scripture portions in native dialects.

Those participating in the services and the mission field which they represent included Rev. Ralph E. Bressler, Philippine Islands; Miss Charlotte Galvin, South China; Rev. Theo Ziemer, Thailand, Siam; Misses Cecelia Lewis, Sally P. Botham, Mabel Ryan and Mrs. Clifford Ryan, all of French West Africa and Rev. D. C. Kopp, former missionary to Belgian Congo, Africa.

Sailor Cousins Meet In Tokyo Bay

Grandsons Of Mrs. L. Robinson, Sampson Street, Anchor In Tokyo Bay Recently

Of interest to Mrs. Lavada Robinson, Sampson street, is the news that her two grandsons, Raymond R. Robinson, U. S. Navy, and Glenn Birch, also of the U. S. Navy, were fortunate in meeting when their respective boats anchored in Tokyo Bay, recently.

Raymond is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson of East Liverpool, Ohio, and Glenn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Birch of Cleveland, Ohio. The latter will be remembered as the former Carrie Robinson of this city.

This marked the first time the sailors have seen one another, in a period of over three years.

Expect Report On Mysterious Malady

GREAT BEND, Kans., Oct. 22—(INS)—The Kansas State Board of Health today was expected to issue a formal report on an investigation into a mysterious malady at Great Bend, which since June 27 has resulted in the death of 13 persons—eight of whom were babies only two or three weeks old.

The investigation began two weeks ago after the abnormally-high death rate pointed to the presence of an unseen killer.

Early tests of private water wells indicated that some were polluted. All of the death victims succumbed to an acute intestinal disorder.

In practically all cases, it was found that mothers of the babies who died had been ill near the end of their confinement.

FEEDER STEERS NOW AVAILABLE

4-H Club members who feed steers usually buy their cattle during the fall and early winter months. With the condition of the corn crop now known, plans should be made for such purchases.

Feeder cattle can be obtained from breeders in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and other nearby states. In addition, feeders can buy cattle from the range states.

One source of cattle is the feeder calf sale to be held in Waynesburg on Friday, October 26. Over 200 head will be sold, most of them being spring calves. Several Lawrence County feeders have bought calves from this sale in previous years.

Anyone interested in joining the 4-H Baby Beef Club should notify the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle, and should plan to get one or more calves this fall.

GEORGE W. ECKLES AWARDED DEGREE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 22—George W. Eckles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Eckles of 501 Winter avenue, New Castle, was awarded an ScB degree in engineering at Brown university's combined baccalaureate and graduation exercises held in the historic First Baptist Meeting House yesterday afternoon.

Eckles has been on active duty under the Navy V-12 College Training program at Brown, and will now continue his education elsewhere with the Navy. He is a dean's list student. He prepared for college at New Castle high school.

Food poisoning may manifest itself in the body within half an hour.

COMMITS SUICIDE

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Oct. 22—Despondent over poor health, Ben C. Williams, 36, of 1814 Twenty-first avenue, blew his head off with a shotgun in the kitchen of his home yesterday. He had been employed as a molder. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Leah B. Williams, two sons who are in the service, and three daughters.

Hidden German Capital Located

LONDON, Oct. 22—(INS)—Americans hunting hidden German capital in Europe discovered today that 214 Nazi firms had salted away "enormous" sums in camouflaged Swiss companies.

The find was reported in a Geneva dispatch to the London Daily Express which also said the Germans had hoped to return the money to their homeland when a favorable day arrived.

It was reported that I. G. Farben Industries alone had stored 120-million dollars in dummy branch offices and agencies within Switzerland.

Answers Criticism Of Redeployment

NEW YORK, Oct. 22—(INS)—Recent criticism of the troop redeployment program was answered today by a declaration from war shipping administrator Vice-Adm. Emory S. Land that all overseas troops except occupation forces are scheduled to return by next May.

The bulk of troops now waiting in Europe will be returned by January, he added, when most of the transport fleet will be transferred to the Pacific.

Important Announcement

NOW YOU CAN GET A

$100 LOAN

IF YOU CAN PAY BACK $7.27 A MONTH

Up to 18 months to repay*

WE'VE just extended from 12 to 18 months the time in which most Household loans may be repaid. More time means smaller monthly payments. So if it's more convenient for you to repay less per month, just see the small payments Household now offers.

All you do

All you do to apply for a Household loan of $100, $200 or more is to tell us a little about your problem and choose a payment plan. We require no endorsers or guarantors, no signatures of friends or other outsiders. You may borrow quickly, simply and privately—on your salary, car or furniture. To save time, phone us first, then call for the money.

Smaller monthly payments

See in the table below the payment schedules you have to choose from. You are welcome to repay on the schedule that's most convenient for you. Payments shown include principal and charges. Charges are made only for the actual time you have the use of the money. The sooner you repay any loan the less it costs. Household makes only the one charge stated here.

Quick phone service

You may borrow from Household for almost any purpose. Why don't you find the loan you need in the table and choose a convenient payment schedule now? Then phone or visit Household for quick action on your loan.

*Loans for the payment of certain "restricted" articles are still limited by Govt. regulations to 12 months.

FIND HERE THE CASH LOAN YOU NEED

	Choose your monthly payment here

850	147.93		76.68	[illegible]	52.81

These payments include all costs if payments are made monthly on the same day of each successive month. Earlier or larger payments reduce the total charges and later or smaller payments increase them. ‡On loans of $300 or less Household's only charge is the monthly rate of 3% on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% on that part of a balance in excess of $100. On loans over $300 the charge is equal to a monthly rate not exceeding 1½%. This rate is figured on the actual unpaid principal balances as reduced by payments. There are no fines, fees, discounts or other hidden charges added to this rate.

Gaston Post Hopes To Be Over Top In Membership Drive

Membership Chairman Schweinsberg Announces Energetic Campaign To Reach Quota

With fifty memberships still needed to exceed last year's enrollment, membership chairman E. Gene Schweinsberg, Senior Vice Commander of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, is confident that Gaston post will be over the top at Tuesday evening's meeting.

Commander Drumm and membership chairman Schweinsberg will announce the details of the coming membership drive at the post meeting in the Legion Home, Tuesday evening. The quota assigned Paston Post this year is 1,017 members. Post officers are confident that the post will secure enough points in the special enrollment campaign which will end with the annual membership Round-Up at Harrisburg, Saturday, November 3, to bring them a fine big trophy to add to those previously received. All memberships received prior to Round-Up date, rate double value in the point scoring system.

Length Of Service Optional In Navy

Recruits May Enlist For Periods Of From Two To Six Years At Their Option

According to information received by Chief Specialist H. L. Godfrey, in charge of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Office here, terms of service for enlistment, or re-enlistment in the U. S. Navy (regular navy) have been modified.

For qualified 17-year-old applicants, the period of enlistment at applicants option shall be for two, three, or not to exceed minority, the day before his 21st birthday.

For applicants in the 18-30 age group, the period of enlistment shall be: Two, three, four or six years, at his option.

Previously 17-year-old applicants for enlistment in the regular navy, were required to serve minority enlistments, while applicants from 18-39 years were required to enlist for a period of four years.

Lt. Commander E. B. Keckler, officers in charge of the Navy Recruiting Station at Pittsburgh also informs Chief Specialist Godfrey that selective service registrants of the ages 18 to 37, regardless of draft classification, are now eligible for voluntary enlistment in the navy. They may enroll any time prior to receiving orders to report for induction.

Westminster Makes Navy Menu Covers

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 22—Menu covers for the Navy is the new project to be designed by the art classes at Westminster College.

Joseph M. Sheridan, assistant professor of art, will supervise the work. He received the request for folders from the Lawrence County chapter of the Red Cross.

A Christmas design relating to the Navy will be drawn on stencils, and painted on paper by the students. To be used aboard ship the covers will be six inches wide and nine inches long.

The menus are to be completed and shipped by Nov. 1. The classes are expecting to design similar cover for the Marine Corps after completing their project for the Navy.

Turkey Supply To Be Adequate

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—(INS)—Wholesale and retail poultry dealers said today the indications were that there will be an adequate supply of turkeys and all the trimmings Thanksgiving and Christmas for the first time in several years. Even oysters will be plentiful.

Most of the military purchases were made as early as last August and these for the most part already are dressed and in warehouses or on their way overseas.

The average sized turkeys will be sold at ceiling prices with the larger birds somewhat cheaper, several dealers said.

BUS SERVICE TO BE RESTORED IN PENN TWP.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22—(INS)—More than 3000 Penn township school children and workers were assured transportation today when the striking bus drivers of the Deere Bros. line returned to work pending negotiations of a new contract.

Twenty-five walked off the job Friday in protest to the dismissal of four drivers who union officials said were ousted because they joined the union.

Restoration of bus service for school students was confirmed last night at a conference of school, bus line and union officials.

NEW B. F. GOODRICH TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,800,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger cotton cord, designed it into a 35% stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Quick pickups along the sports trail: Hirsch Jacobs again expects to send more than 100 winners to the post before the year is out making him the leading horse-trainer in the nation . . . If he tops the list of trainers again it will be his 12th year in the last 13 at the head of the list . . . The fact that he accomplishes his miracles by taking "made" horses and making them run doesn't detract from his ability.

In connection with racing, it might be interesting for the $2 bettors to note that Ted Atkinson had five winners yesterday at New York's Jamaica track . . . He started with Little Lynn ($6.03), then scored on Miss Blackout ($4.70), Rece ($3.20), Silvestra ($8.50), and Black Swan ($4.20) . . . He was out of the money on Vassallo and finished second aboard Histronic.

Deny Skeeters For Sale

Reports that the Jersey City Giants, affiliate of the New York Giants, are for sale in some sort of major league farm club shakeup were denied today by New York club officials.

Announcement that play for the Davis cup will be resumed in December of next year means that we will have to develop some players if we hope to regain the old trophy . . . We didn't have anything when they took the cup away from us, and in the meantime we have even lost what we didn't have to begin with.

Billy Conn is one of my all-time favorite sports characters, both as a performer and personally . . . I would like nothing better than to see him heavyweight champion of the world . . . but I look for Louis to belt him out whenever he chooses next June . . . I hope I'm wrong.

"In a week or two we are going to have a first class team," said Frank Cope, veteran tackle and captain of the New York Giants in the National Professional league. "We are just rounding into shape with our new material. Watch us go from here on."

Sinkwich Through

Announcement that Frankie Sinkwich is through with football for this season because of a knee injury suffered in a game he was playing for the Second Air Force Superbombers, is another chapter in the strange career of this really great football player.

He was an All-America at Georgia for two years, then went into the Marines and was released for various ailments, only to become a professional star with the Detroit Lions and now windup as a cripple with the air forces.

Football Raiding

Fred Corcoran, the head man of the Professional Golf Association insofar as tournaments are concerned, has arrived back in New York with the news that the P.G.A. is continuing toward an all-time record-breaking year in proceeds. They will start a new swing in November and carry on to the first of the year.

News that the All-America Football league is raiding the National's talent is not unexpected or particularly disquieting . . . The All-America is trying to grab off some names to get its wheels a-rolling . . . They may get a few, but in the long run probably will have to back off and quit as the several other proposed leagues have done.

Col. McCormick Credit To Sports, Did Great Work

Man In Charge Of American Forces Athletics In Europe Swell Fellow

IS GREAT FRIEND OF BILLY CONN

By RALPH CANNON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—A first lieutenant in command of a machine gun company in action on the Western Front in the First World War, and a lieutenant colonel in charge of athletics in the American forces in the European theater of the Second World War, Frank McCormick is one of the men the sports world points to with pride.

Frank McCormick, a baseball man first last and always, was the man who first put on the American Legion junior baseball program. At that time he was state commander of the legion in South Dakota.

Greater Boom in Europe

While everyone in this country is anticipating a tremendous sports boom as a part of the post-war reaction, Colonel McCormick believes sports will be even greater in Europe. He said:

"Over there the governments in every country undoubtedly will get behind sports programs on a far greater scale than ever before. As it was, in Italy and Germany they had marvelous facilities for all outdoor sports. That was a part of the military program in those countries. Now I look for the governments of all countries to back and support sports—for national welfare, rather than for military purposes."

The reason Colonel McCormick looks for vast sport booms in Europe is the rabid enthusiasm for athletics over there at the present time.

Likes Billy Conn

One of the men in Colonel McCormick's program was Billy Conn. Billy, who says he hopes his scrap with Joe Louis next June will be in Chicago, did a lot of exhibition boxing. He was used also to cheer up the wounded men in the hospitals after the Battle of the Bulge.

Colonel McCormick who was director of athletics of Minnesota before the war recalled an anecdote of Conn's time in Rheims, France. McCormick related:

"We had Billy matched up with a big, punch-drunk fellow from the coast. They were waltzing along, as you might say, when this fellow, who had quite a right-hand, evidently figured here was a chance to get a lot of notoriety for himself.

"So he watched for a chance, and let Billy have that right-hand—good. It buckled up Billy a bit, and he shifted around until his head had cleared. Then he let the bum have a left-hook. That fellow went through the air like the man on a trapeze. It was really something to see."

Pulling for Billy

Colonel McCormick feels positive that Conn is going to take Louis in their next meeting. Conn himself also seems to feel very confident that he has the same chance that Tunney had when he caught Dempsey going downhill. Conn said: Conn then went on to say:

"Sure I hope they stage the bout in Chicago. Everybody in Pittsburgh'll be up. It would be as big a thing as the second Dempsey-Tunney show. Nothing would suit me better than to have it in Chicago."

Favor Burton To Defeat Rafferty

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22—(INS)—Gene Burton, New York lightweight was a 2-1 favorite to beat Doll Rafferty in a 10-round boxing bout tonight that will open Pittsburgh's indoor fight season.

Burton recently held Sammy Angott to a 10-round draw.

The main event will be supported by Cliff Beckett and Rudy Cassidy. Cassidy is a last minute substitute for Eddie Finazzo, who withdrew from the card due to an attack of flu.

Two six and a four-round preliminary bout completes the card.

TWO UNDEFEATED TEAMS

Only two big teams are undefeated or untied in Class AA today—Donora and New Kensington. Donora Saturday pasted a 26 to 0 defeat on the big Brownsville team, while New Kensington defeated Shady Side Academy last Friday 26 to 6. Altoona erased Greenburg Saturday 14 to 7.

Sparky Brown of Cazenovia, N. Y., former Penn State fullback, is playing on the Third Air Force football team this fall.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

TRADE of two of the American League's veteran first sackers, Dick Seibert of the A's and George McQuinn of the Browns passed almost unnoticed. . . . A few years ago the A's-Brownie deal would have made the sports page headlines for each player was much in demand. . . . Seibert has been in pro baseball for 13 years and McQuinn for 15. . . . Seibert played with eight clubs before going to the A's in 1938. . . . He broke in with Dayton in the Central League as an 18-year-old. . . . McQuinn, as a 19-year-old hopeful, began with New Haven and moved up through Wheeling, Scranton, Albany, Binghamton Toronto, the Yanks, Newark, Cincinnati and finally the Browns. He came to the Browns in 1938, the same year Seibert was breaking in with the A's. . . . McQuinn is a power hitter and was one of the big guns of the Brownie attack. . . . Seibert also could hit when it counted and was one of the star Mack players.

Tommy Lynch, staff sergeant, infantry, who was a machine gunner, is on furlough, visiting his father, City Detective Thomas Lynch. He arrived from Europe Friday and will report at Indiantown Gap. Staff Sergt Lynch fought in Africa, Sicily, France, Germany, Belgium and was also in Czecho Slovakia. He was wounded twice, wears eight battle stars, the purple heart and presidential citation. A few hours after the staff sergeant arrived home his brother, William, chief gunner's mate, USMC, who is hospitalized at Great Lakes because of wounds sustained in the Pacific also arrived home on a brief furlough.

Eastern reports indicate the army may be receptive to a Rose Bowl bid this year. Navy or Notre Dame may have something to say about that—long before January 1. . . . Army's great back, Doc Blanchard, is a pulverizing line-buster. When Doc works on an opposing lineman the gent really is put under a physician's care. . . . Temple U. has too many good ends this year, says Coach Ray Morrison, who has six ready to start each game. Man-power problems for Morrison is at an end! . . . Tommy Harmon uses a bird on his new radio program to help him make his grid guesses. Tommy's playing safe. The listeners won't be able to give him the bird—he's already got it!

Bad Week-End For Big Teams

Ohio State, Georgia And Tennessee Erased From National Grid Spotlight

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Ohio State, Georgia and Tennessee were out of the national football spotlight today as the week-end casualties rolled in.

The situation may be clarified further this coming Saturday when Navy, still ranked No. 2 behind Army nationally, despite its fumbling and faltering with the new T-formation, takes on a Penn outfit that may be better than anybody dreams.

The national leaders, as viewed by these jaundiced eyes:

Army, Navy, Alabama, Notre Dame, Minnesota, St. Mary's, Texas.

In the east, we have Columbia, Holy Cross, Penn and possibly Temple, lined up behind the two service outfits.

Irish Unbeaten

In the mid-west, Minnesota, Purdue and Notre Dame are still going places.

In the south, Mississippi State ranks a distant second below Alabama.

Texas, Oklahoma A. & M. and Tulsa are pacing the southwest, with the Longhorns apparently the class of the lot.

On the west coast, St. Mary's and U. S. C. lead the parade. On Saturday, USC swamped Pacific, 52 to 0.

On tap for Saturday are two contests in which "rebound" teams may raise havoc with the national championship aspirations of Minnesota and Alabama. Ohio State and Georgia, upset respectively by Purdue and L. S. U. to the tunes of 35 to 13 and 32 to 0, will be hopping mad and out for blood.

Cleveland Rams Surprise Bears

Cleveland's Young Team Remains Undefeated In Four Games In Pro League

(By International News Service)

Cleveland Rams' accent on youth had paid off today in professional football circles.

The Rams perched undefeated atop the National League standings with four victories—and a great share of credit in that quartet of triumphs could be placed on the broad shoulders of Bob Waterfield and Don Greenwood, freshman stars.

Chicago's once big, bad Bears caught a blinding glimpse of Waterfield and the Rams yesterday and lost 41-21 at Wrigley Field, Chicago.

Other league games brought these results: Washington 24, Philadelphia 14; Pittsburgh 21, New York 7; Detroit 26, Chicago Cards 9; and Green Bay 38, Boston 14.

Sunday's play saw two previously undefeated teams, New York and Boston, dropped from the unbeaten list.

BABE WINS ANOTHER

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 22—(INS)—The 1945 Texas Women's Golf championship was added today to the many athletic laurels of Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias of Los Angeles.

She took the final match of the tournament in easy fashion yesterday from Mrs. Albert Becker, Jr., of Englewood, N. J., 7 and 6, over a windy course. It was her second triumph over Mrs. Becker in three attempts in the last two years. The Babe was 4 up at the end of 18 holes.

The Pennsylvania State college board of trustees has accepted a grant of $5000 from the estate of Larry Conover, former Penn State player and coach, for the establishment of a football scholarship. The award is intended for New Jersey youths.

Grid Program For This Week

Bessemer At Shenango Big Game Locally, New Castle At Clairton Friday

The football program for Lawrence County schools this week, has one big game locally, Bessemer at Shenango with the county championship at stake in a Friday afternoon game at 2:15 o'clock.

New Castle High is away this week, being slated for a game Friday night at Clairton at 8 o'clock in Class AA.

Union High goes to the Sharpsville High field Friday night for a game with Hickory High at 8:15 o'clock.

Ellwood City plays Greenville at Ellwood on Friday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Wrigley Against Night Baseball

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—(INS)—The Chicago Cubs had a hold-out today. It was owner Phil K. Wrigley. He was holding out against night games at Wrigley Field.

There won't be any lights in Wrigley Field next season, he said, adding that it might turn out the the Cubs eventually will be the only one of the Major league clubs without a lighting plant.

"We believe that baseball is a daytime sport," Wrigley said. "We will continue to play it in sunshine as long as we can."

The Cubs last season had a paid home attendance of 1,037,026.

Four Navy Stars On Injured List

ANNAPOLIS, Oct. 22—(INS)—Four first-string Navy players, including backfield star Clyde Scott, were reported today on the injured list.

Scott, who sufered a badly sprained ankle in the Saturday night game with Georgia Tech, may be out for two weeks.

Charley Kiser, starting tackle, who also sprained his ankle and Bob Jenkins, fullback, suffering knee injuries, will probably sit on the bench this Saturday when their team meets the University of Pennsylvania. Ed Deramee, who received a blow on the head, is expected to be okay in several days.

SUFFERING a knee injury in the game with the El Toro Marines, Frankie Sinkwich, former Georgia All-American and a star pro player with the Detroit Lions last year, may be forced to give up his football career. Sinkwich suffered the injury while playing with the Second Air Force of Colorado Springs, Colo., where he is stationed. (International)

Clairton Tickets On Sale Thursday

New Castle Fans Alloted 725 Tickets For Friday Game At Clairton

Robert M. Mills, ticket manager at New Castle High announced today that tickets for the New Castle-Clairton game at Clairton, Friday night, will go on sale Thursday at the Sporting Goods Store at 9 o'clock for adult season ticket holders. There are 225 reserved tickets for the local fans available. There will be 500 general admission tickets available.

The sale of tickets for the non-season ticket holders will start Friday morning at 9 o'clock. The prices for the Clairton tickets are 80 cents for reserved seats and 50 cents for general admission.

The following letter was received by Mr. Mills from Dr. E. F. Stabler, principal of Clairton High regarding the sale of tickets for the game—

"I realize that these reserved tickets will not begin to take care of your requests. However, we had only about 600 tickets to sell to our own fans and from what information I could gather most of these are going to New Castle people or ex-New Castle people. We have quite a colony of ex-New Castle people here in Clairton, and everyone of them wanted tickets for themselves or their friends. This game is certainly a popular one here in Clairton, and I hope it becomes just as popular for you in New Castle. Sell as many of the general admission tickets as you like and we will guarantee that they can get into the field. The gates will open shortly after six."

Rifle Club To Battle Butler

The New Castle Rifle club will have an Inter-State shoot at the Cathedral range tonight with the Butler rifle team at 8 o'clock, it was announced by Charles Phipps, secretary.

This will be the first match of the year in the league for the New Castle tame and they hope to make a creditable showing against the strong Butler team.

Upset Washington Saturday Night In Stadium Game 43-7

Joe Dado Scores Four Touchdowns To Lead Franklin Hi To Stunning Victory

Sallie, Blackwell And Joseph Also Tally For Franklin, M. Altman For Washington

Flashing an offensive attack that had their opponents bewildered in every period, the Franklin High powerhouse Patriot football team ascended to the 1945 Junior High football championship by defeating George Washington High, under an avalanche of touchdowns, to the tune of 43 to 7 Saturday night.

Never in the history of the long series between the two schools has a team won in such impressive fashion with a show of strength that had the crowd of over 3,000 fans gasping as the Franklin backs, a speedy lot, ran the lighter and more inexperienced Washington team all over the field piling up seven touchdowns, four by the sensational Joe "Swivel-Hips" Dado, hang up 318 yards net rushing for the evening and out-first-downed Washington 8 to 7, the latter team making most of their downs on well directed forward passes thrown by M. Altman, J. Altman and Gunn. The Cowmeadow coached Franklin team arose to its highest heights in the victory.

Dado Scores Early

After an exchange of punts following the opening kickoff, the Franklin team took the ball on a punt from J. Altman on the Franklin 37 yard line and began a march down the field, with Sallie passing to Dado from the 46 to the 18 yard line and with Sallie running the ball 14 yards to the Washington 4, from which point Joe Dado ran the ball over for the first score of the game. Sallie tried the extra-point by running the ball but was stopped. Franklin 6—Washington 0.

Franklin kicked off to Washington following the touchdown on the 22 yard line as the first period closed.

Blackwell-Sallie Tally

The second period began with Washington having the ball on their own 22 yard line. J. Altman ran the ball 11 yards to the 33 yard line and on the next play McCoy faded back either for a pass or to punt and fumbled the ball, Franklin recovering on the 14 yard line. On the first play Lawrence Blackwell dashed over the goal line to score. Sallie missed the extra-point by placement and it was Franklin 12—Washington 0.

Franklin's third touchdown came just as the second period was about to end. Washington fumbled on the Franklin 35 and Franklin recovered. On the first play Earl Sallie electrified the fans by dashing off right tackle and behind splendid interference raced 65 yards to tally. Sallie converted the extra-point by placement, making it Franklin 19—Washington 0. The whole Franklin second team raced on the field to play the remainder of the period.

Dada Runs 67 Yards To Score

Washington kicked off to Franklin to start the third period and on the second play Joe Dado circled right end and dashed through the Washington secondary to score on a run of 67 yards sending the Franklin cheering section into spasms of joy. Earl Sallie tried the extra-point and it was blocked, making the count at this time Franklin 25—Washington 0.

Franklin's fifth touchdown was made on an intercepted pass by big Jumbo Joseph, the left tackle and co-captain about mid-field and he raced some 50 yards to score. Sallie again tried the extra-point but it was blocked making the score Franklin 31—Washington 0. There was just time enough left in the third period for the kickoff following Joseph's great run and the period closed.

Mendall Altman Scores

Franklin took the ball on the kickoff at the end of the third period on their own 20 and fumbled on the first play, Washington recovering. J. Altman on a lateral ran to the 14 yard line. J. Altman then made it first down on the 8 yard line on a dash of 6 yards. Gunn ran the ball to the 4 yard line and then Mendall Altman raced the ball over to score the first and only Washington touchdown. McCoy's placement for the extra-point was good making it Franklin 31—Washington 7.

Washington kicked to Franklin after the Washington touchdown on the Franklin 35 and a steady series of running plays soon carried the ball to the Washington 15 yard line, from which point Dado going back into the game raced 15 yards to give him his fourth touchdown of the game, and run the count to 43 for Franklin. The Franklin High second and third stringers started to filter into the game, which ended with Washington trying desperately to score via their famed aerial route but to no avail. Washington used 14 subs in the game and Franklin 20, just about emptying both benches.

Cowmeadow-Binder Happy

The championship team is coached by Austin Cowmeadow with George Binder as his assistant, both coaches being very happy over regaining the title after a lapse of a year that it was held by Coach Art Alexander and his North Hillers.

Marty Kovach Joins Hole-In-One Circle

Ellwood City Golfer Scores Ace On No. 5 Hole At Sylvan Heights Sunday

Maybe it was the beautiful weather or maybe it was because he had been practicing for the shot all summer and maybe it was because he is one of the country's low-scoring golfers. Anyhow, Martin J. "Marty" Kovach of Ellwood City did what every golfer tries to do when he goes out on the golf course, he wrote a hole-in-one.

Kovach made the second ace scored at Sylvan Heights this summer when he planted his ball in the cup of No. Five hole in one stroke while playing with a foursome Sunday afternoon.

Kovach used a No. 5 iron on the 150-yard hole which proved the perfect club. The other ace was also scored by an Ellwood City golfer, which makes them two up on the rest of the county for the season.

MARKET TODAY QUIET AND FIRM

Market Averages Advance Fractionally, But Trend In Leaders Mixed

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(INS)—Stocks were quiet and firm in early trading today. Market averages advanced fractionally but the trend in individual leaders was mixed.

First hour trading approximately only 240,000 shares.

Motors, steels and rails were dull and narrow. U. S. Steel and General Motors eased. Bethlehem held an early point gain. Carriers were practically unchanged and featureless. Small gains were the rule in utilities and aviations. Liquor issues moved higher with American distilling spurting more than a point on its initial sale.

Communications gained irregularly. Coppers and oils continued firm.

Bonds and curb shares rested near Saturday's finals.

Professor Sees Great Future For Young Scientists

Sees Research Men Using Discoveries To Branch Out Into Own Businesses

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 22—Disregarding the newly opened channel of atomic energy, Dr. Charles Starr, newly appointed associate professor of chemistry at Westminster college, predicts a bright future in the field of science for our young and trained chemists.

"Although the development of electronics is the most startling to come out of this war, the tricklings of advancements in chemistry when pieced together are astonishing," Dr. Starr comments.

Plastics have been given the most attention by the public and perhaps offer the most opportunity to the graduating chemist. However, Dr. Starr is optimistic about the discoveries that will come to light now that censorship has been lifted.

Before these new discoveries can be put to practical use, the professor explained that the gap left by the drafting of those enrolled in scientific courses would have to be filled and personnel returned to the research laboratories.

Will Take 5 to 6 Years

It will take at least five to six years to return a normal supply of trained men to the nation's scientific laboratories, ventures Dr. Starr.

Insisting that he was not an economist but a scientist, Dr. Starr advanced the idea that the large chemical plants of the country would not necessarily monopolize the production of the future.

"I belive many wartime research men will piece together the discoveries cast aside by a manufacturer who is intent upon reconversion and secondary products and develop his own industry." He added that he did not mean to imply that the big companies would not branch out for themselves but that there would be many discoveries left untouched even then.

An atomic age? "Too many with no authority have already predicted too much," he replied. The one hope for atomic control, he believes, is that it cannot be assembled in the ordinary workshop but requires a network of organization behind its production.

"What makes it sound so revolutionary is that its announcement came after it had been completely developed instead of piece by piece," he said, comparing the discovery of atomic power to that of electricity.

National Honorary Accepts Westminster Scholastic Society

Formal initiation and installation ceremonies will be held Saturday afternoon, followed by a banquet in the evening.

Active members of Sceptre to be initiated are Dana Boone, Pittsburgh; Colleen Gibson, Tarentum; Jean Gebauer, Pittsburgh; Norma Hench, Wyncote; Betty Luther, Ellwood City; Jane McKnight, Salem, N. J.; Shirley Morgan, Altoona; Margaret Pigman, Mt. Pleasant; Hazel Potter, Kenmore, N. Y.; and Jane Randolph, Brownsville. Thirty alumnae members of Sceptre will also be initiated into Cwens.

The purpose of the organization is to foster leadership, scholarship, and fellowship among the sophomore women, and to serve and promote the interests of the college in every way.

Bowel Cleaning Power of Erb-Help Medicine

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP! Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.
